

Lee Shippey Writes On Buying

Secretary of Commerce
Hodges and many business leaders urge us to buy more.
If our nation was buying twice as much, they argue, our total national product would be twice as much and prosperity for all of us would result — unemployment would vanish and living standards rise.

Trouble is that most of us are already buying all we can afford, and some of us more than we can afford because prices are so high.
And one important reason why prices are so high is secret, illegal price-fixing agreements to keep prices high, proof of which has come out in several recent Congressional investigations.

So many millions of us are eager to buy more, but can't, that the surest — and most patriotic — way to double the total national product could be to double the demand for it by lowering prices so we could afford to buy more, counting on volume selling to compensate for lower profits a sale. That would help everyone.

Incidentally, I think many in big business should bear their share of blame for spreading the kind of discontent which leads some unthinking persons to Communism.

When we read confessions of multi-billion-dollar corporations that they have illegally combined to keep prices up and rob both our people and our government of millions of dollars in excess profits, and that great drug companies are charging twice or several times as much for drugs millions of Americans desperately need than those same drugs sell for in other countries where there is real competition, we can't blame a lot of people who are far from being Red or even Pink from seeing "red." Free enterprise is what made our nation great, but enterprise controlled by secret agreements is not free.

The Russian nuclear blasts haven't proved the Russians are ahead of us or even close behind us in scientific weapons, but they have proved they are far ahead of us in lying.

Crazy or not, I'm not going to build a bomb shelter or make any elaborate plans for survival. If wiser men than I am can't avert a nuclear war I'd prefer my chances of dying all at once to worrying myself to death by slow degrees. And I somewhat doubt that life would be worth living in a nuclear-riddled world.

Calling all pigs! Calling all pigs! Paper plates, napkins, etc., are conveniences but some persons seem to think they were created for the purpose of littering
parks, picnic grounds, beaches, streets and highways.

It Looks Nice!

Beautification of any part of Sierra Madre is worthy of mention.

The city has planted a small tropical garden in the parkway at the northeast intersection of Sierra Madre Blvd. and N. Baldwin.
It looks nice.

More Flags Are Coming

The third consignment of new 50-Star American Flags has been received by the SIERRA MADRE NEWS. Orders for all of these have been received and are being filled.

A fourth consignment has been ordered. These are expected shortly and the NEWS would suggest that those desiring these 4 x 5 flags, made of tough, durable material, with a flag staff and also a gadget for attachment to your porch or place of business, should order them immediately. The phone number is ELgin 5-3324, and the price is $4.50 each, the exact cost. There is no tax.

'Flower Vendors 'Round the World' Sierra Madre's Rose Float Theme

"Flower Vendors Around the World" will be Sierra Madre's Rose Float theme as selected by the Sierra Madre Rose Float Committee at its recent meeting, for the New Year's Tournament of Roses Parade.

Plans are being made by Manuel de la Torre and Vern Foster, co-chairmen, on designs and sketches that will best depict the overall theme of the Rose Parade theme, "Around the World With Flowers."

Next meeting of the committee will be Friday, Sept. 29, when the subjects of finance and design will be considered.

SCHOOL DAYS are with us again and here Principal Ed. Hawkins of Sierra Madre School imparts some "beginners knowledge" to Catherine Lemke, Jeff Douglas, Cynthia Soneijon, Tippy Hawkins, Timmy Jones and Robyn Jordan.

Sewer Costs Bring Turbulent Hearing

Property owners in Sewer District No. 71, comprising a large sector of the city and in which the sewer construction will cost some $371,000, Tuesday night put the Sierra Madre City Council "on the pan" — made its members "sweat" because of what was termed excessive and unnecessary costs, bad management and "a lack of communications."

Targeted — and forcefully so — were City Administrator Lawrence C. Bevington, the firms of James Montgomery, special sewer and water survey analysts, and its employee Ken McMullen, and the city councilmen themselves. The hearing on this particular issue lasted more than two hours.

More than 150 irate property owners crowded into Council Chambers voicing their protest in a manner that subsequently evoked the statement from City Atty Charles R. Martin that the demonstration was unequalled in his recollection of city affairs.

Nonplussed, Council finally — and gladly — put the dispute over for another two weeks when the property owners will have another chance to speak their piece.

City Clerk L. Marie Warfel read 27 letters from property owners protesting the rate for sewer installations, contending they were increased from original figures when Council decided to run the laterals to the property lines instead of to the curbs as originally planned.

This, as Miss Clara Sykes said, was the nub of the situation together with the fact that somewhere along the line, "the line of communications between the city administration and property owners broke down miserably."

The letters from the 27
property owners, together with the statements voiced on the Council Chamber floor by property owners were extraordinarily forceful, especially that of E. Waldo Ward of 273 E. Highland, who claimed that there was trust money in a fund held by the city earmarked for sewer work and that some of this should have been used to lessen the load on the property owners.

This led to an exchange between Atty. Noren Eaton, representing Ward and City Administrator Bevington in which the former sought to show, and successfully, that there is $20,000 set aside for such a purpose.

Mutterings of "Bevington should resign," were heard in the Chamber as the hearing proceeded and the letters were read. They contained such statements as "Council is negligent," "it is completely out of line," "there must be some graft somewhere,"
"my assessment should have been for $400 — it has been doubled," "it's a terrible mess," "it looks as if some one will make some money,"
"outrageous," "time we put our fighting clothes on," "the city's done nothing but 'dig me' for money," and "it's exorbitant."

John Rasmussen asked for an explanation of the difference in costs from the original estimates, and Clara Sykes reported that her original costs had been doubled.
Coupled with her statement that there had been a breakdown all along the line in communications by the city administration were contentions from other protestants that there is a need for simplifying the legal advertisements used by the city.

Atty. Eaton, paying the way for possible legal action against the city by Ward, won a decision from City Atty. Martin on his method of questioning Bevington. He wished to obtain his answers after each question; Martin wanted all the questions put and then a single answer.
There were loud cries of "no" from the property owners and Martin acquiesced in Eaton's contention.

Among those filing letters of protest were:

Eleanor Herzberg, 32 N.
Lima Dr. L. Earl Goddard, 625 Mariposa; Edward and Violet S. Verneau, 725 W.

Rev. Hesse's Daughter Is Crash Victim

A car crash on the Santa wood last Friday brought critical head injuries to Miss Juliane E. Hesse, 20, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Armin

M. Hesse, former now pastor of Faith Lutheran Church in Hastings Ranch. The Hesse family resides at 1015 Medford, Hastings Ranch.

hospital following an illness a few weeks ago, suffered a brain injury which Friday

Disaster Chart Planned . . .

Red Cross Branch Honors Mrs. Wood

Coincidental with the bestowal of a 40-year pin upon the chairman, Mrs. H. Randolph Wood of 38 E. Grand View, the Sierra Madre branch, Pasadena Chapter, National Red Cross, will shortly distribute a "Referral Chart For Disaster" to every home in this area.

Announcement of this was made at Tuesday's meeting of the Board of Directors.
Boy Scouts will make the distribution. The charts will contain complete instructions for action necessitated in all types of disaster, and particularly in cases of bomb attack, fires or floods.

The ceremony of honoring Mrs. Wood with a 40-year pin was distinctly impressive, especially in view of the unstinted and all-out devoted service she has giving — Please turn to page 10

City Firemen Are Busy On Home Inspection Program

At left — Inspector Shackleford is met at the door by Mrs. Sutcliffe. Program explained to her. He is pointing out he just wants a few minutes of her time to offer suggestions and to help avert a possible fire in her home.

At right — Explaining how important fireplace screen is when kept in good condition, Shackleford shows how sparks could pop out onto the carpet, starting a fire that could go undiscovered unless someone was in the room at the time.

People Greet Steps to Bar Fire Hazards

With five inspectors busy,
the Home Inspection Program instituted by the Sierra Madre Volunteer Fire Department, Charles E.
Brown, chief, and by Fire Marshal Bert Embree, is off to an excellent start.

To date, it has met with success and enthusiasm on the part of citizens anxious to eliminate fire hazards about their homes and yards.

The five inspectors have been assigned areas across town so that the entire city will be covered within a year or so.

"The success of this program rests with the citizens themselves," comments Marshal Embree, "in that the inspectors can only offer suggestions to make homes safer. Carrying them out is up to the home owners or renters themselves."

"With the full cooperation of every person in the city, this campaign can succeed and help keep our fire losses to a minimum."

TV Adding New Look To S.M. Schools

By Joyce Wenger

Fifth and 6th grade youngsters, returning to Sierra Madre Elementary Schools Monday, found something new had been added, namely TV sets in each classroom.

Installation of these sets which are used throughout the Pasadena Unified School District, was no small feat.
As residents here well know,
TV reception is often poor because we are so close to the mountains. Consequently, during the last three months school officials retained a consulting engineer and also consulted representatives of the vendors displaying the sets.

In a recent demonstration of TV reception, held at the Sierra Mesa School, the engineers and the school representatives were pleased with the reception and it was approved for instructional use. This means that 260
Sierra Madre 5th and 6th graders will receive conversational Spanish instruction via TV.

Pasadena has pioneered

SUMMERTIME BAR-B-QUEING can be fun — and also dangerous. Inspector calls attention to the fact that the fire is too close to a bush that could burn, and also too close to the garage. Mrs. Sutcliffe agrees fire is a thing to be wary of, and is making daughter Lynn know its ravages, so that she should not play with matches, or with burning embers of the bar-b-que.

Recreational Program Begins At 2 Schools

Following completion of a most successful summer recreation program at the two Sierra Madre Schools, Sierra Madre and Sierra Mesa, where 11,278 enjoyed the summer activities under the direction of the Pasadena Recreation Department, Edward E. Bignell, director of recreation, now announces opening of the school year recreation program to be conducted at both elementary schools after school. The program will begin Monday, Sept. 18.

Leadership will be provided at 2:15 p.m. for 1st and 2nd graders with a specially planned program for this age group.
Activities will continue through the afternoon for all grade levels to 5 p.m.

(daylight saving hours),
with two leaders.

Both school playgrounds will have a man and a woman assigned who will be trained in leadership of recreational activities. Physical

Residents Protest Kindergarten Pupils Having to Walk to and From School

Bulletin

City Council Tuesday night granted the request for extra crossing protection for pupils crossing W.
Sierra Madre Blvd. en route to Sierra Madre School. The exact location, however, is left to Police Chief Gordon G. McMillan on return from his vacation.

Mothers of children of kindergarten age residing south of Sierra Madre Blvd. and west of Mountain Trail view with considerable dislike the ruling of the Pasadena Elementary School District that kindergartners in that area must now walk to the Sierra Madre School.

Under the former system
when Sierra Madre Schools were an entity of their own and before the schools an-nexed to the Pasadena District, these children were transported to school, via bus.

The following letter sent to Mayor W. Webster Van-nier by Mr. and Mrs. R. H.

Barden Jr., of 217 W. Orange Grove, and signed by Mr.
Barden, indicates the feeling of residents in this area.

Dear Mayor Vannier:

The chief of police is away and will not return before Monday the 11th, and due to the urgency of the matter, we request your consideration:

Responding to an invitation extended by the Pasadena Junior Chamber of Commerce, James W. Fifield, Jr. D.D., pastor of the First

The News next week will contain an unusually interesting advertisement concerning Sally Clark's Dancing School for the coming season. Be sure to watch for it.

Congregational Church of Los Angeles, will give the invocation at the 30th Annual Youth Banquet Sept. 19 at the Huntington-Sheraton Hotel in Pasadena.

Other distinguished personalities participating will be John Krehiel of Pasadena, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee who will introduce the guest of honor and principal speaker, Senator Barry Goldwater of Arizona. George Murphy, star of stage, screen and television will act as Master of Ceremonies.

Headliners Restaurant Progressing

Sierra Madre's newest restaurant being installed in the former Safeway store building next to the First Western Bank on W. Sierra Madre Blvd., should be functioning some time in early October.

Completion of the entire new installations in the building owned by the Headliners interests should be achieved by that time affording Sierra Madre with an eating place capable of providing good food and also accommodations for clubs and other civic groups meetings.

While the name has not been definitely determined it probably will be The Sierra Madre Headliners, an identification akin to the other Headliners interests in this area.

Couple Back From Europe Find Italian Women Work Hard, Paris Gay, Noisy

There is plenty to be learned from a trip abroad, but it is good to be back home in the United States, according to Mr. and Mrs. Angela Panetta of 160 Vista Circle, Sierra Madre, following a three-month tour of Europe. Mrs. Panetta, as Diana Panetta, conducts the Temple Personnel Agency at 5645 N. Rosemead, Temple City.

"The educational value of a trip abroad is priceless," Mrs. Panetta advised. "One learns the value of being royal to your own country despite its seeming defects."

The European trip was her second. In 1946, she lived in England for a year. Since coming to this country the following year, she has traveled throughout the United States, of which she is a naturalized citizen.

The Panettas, whose journey was by jet all the way, first flew to Rome, Italy, from New York City.

Panetta, a native Roman on his first trip back to Europe, visited a sister he hadn't seen for 36 years.

Mrs. Panetta is a native of Australia. She speaks Italian.

"It would shock any American woman to see how hard the Italian women

Mrs. Angela Panetta

work," she reports. "They look so much older than their years and listened wistfully when told of such things as supermarkets."

Mrs. Panetta found that "Venice had its beauty, but it also had its cold winds and not a song out of the boatmen unless they were paid."

The Panettas not only visited the bigger European cities, but also visited villages and met country people. "That is the way to really know a country," she said.

The Panettas found that gasoline was expensive in Europe, one of the reasons small cars are so popular there.

"It is no unusual sight to see a business man with his briefcase pedaling a bicycle five miles to work," Mrs. Panetta observed.

"Paris was gay, but noisy, and it was a risk to walk on the streets with those little demons they call cars."

Mrs. Panetta liked Switzerland best of the countries she toured, principally because of its beauty. However, "The Swiss were complaining about the high cost of living" caused to some degree by wealthy foreigners who settle down in that tiny nation.

Mrs. Panetta was also impressed by Copenhagen, Denmark, which she termed a "dreamworld for children, even better than Disneyland."

However, Mrs. Panetta, as a health lecturer who has appeared before a number of area clubs, questioned the fine reputation of French food and other European cuisine. "Some of the finest food in the world is right here in the States," she maintains.

The Panettas also visited England and Norway.

Wherever they went, they found Americans. And "loads of them were homesick."

Women Voters Convene Sept. 21

The East Unit of the Pasadena League of Women Voters will hold its first meeting of the season at the home of Mrs. John Spanos, 3780 Cartwright, Hastings Ranch, next Thursday, Sept. 21, at 9:30 a.m. Members will please note change of meeting place.

The topic will be "Using U.S. Farm Surpluses to Promote Economic Growth in the Developing Countries," Mrs. George W. Lindsay is the discussion leader.

Women of this area interested in our U.S. Foreign Policy are invited.

Bad Check Charge

Around the Town With Martha

By Martha Sharp
ELgin 5-0003

Mrs. Leo (Bey) Sharp recently received a welcome letter from former neighbor, Mrs. Ethel Parsons, who with her son and daughter-in-law, Jim and Pearl, and two nice grandchildren, Lynn and Dick Parsons, lived at 244-246 E. Highland for several years.

Sierra Madreans will remember Jim as a popular member of the Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Team. Jim, who had been shift superintendent of Lever Brothers in the Los Angeles plant, was promoted to production coordinator of all Lever plants, with headquarters in New York City, in January, 1960.

Ethel reports in her letter that the family is enjoying their beautiful home in Norwalk, Conn. Pearl is enjoying keeping house, Lynn is continuing her high school education and Dick has made application to Connecticut University in Storrs, Conn.

Latest news is that the entire family miss their friends here and hope for the possibility of seeing them again.

The Roger Comstocks, who have resided at 124 N. Mountain Trail, have bought a home in Altadena and newcomers and residents at the same address, as of yesterday, are Mr. and Mrs. Philip (Erlaine) Schnifferdaker of Pasadena.

Herbert Wilcox, who resides at 562 Arbolada Dr., Arcadia, close by Sierra Madre, and who is now retired, like to cook—it keeps him busy and he has acquired a lot of culinary skill. Mrs. Wilcox, who has a vast sense of humor, has taken words cut out from newspapers and formed them to say: "DAD COOKS FOR MOM" "Mom's Just Plain Bushed." Needless to say, this invokes a lot of merriment from visitors to the Wilcox domicile.

Jon (Tony) Rudbach and wife, Inge, have returned to Ann Arbor, Mich., where Inge is a student of languages and Tony is working for his Ph.D. in bacteriology, doing research and teaching in the Medical College. They have been visiting Jon's mother, Mrs. Lola Rudbach at 119 Esperanza.

Happy birthday wishes and congratulations to Capt. E. G. Everett who will celebrate his 84th birthday anniversary come next Wednesday, Sept. 20.

The good captain and Mrs. (Betty) Everett live at 479 Ramona and have been long time residents in Sierra Madre for nearly 30 years.

Mrs. Remington Stone whose professional writing name is Idella Purnell of 321 E. Grand View, is one of 40 women in this area who will be listed for the first time in the newly published edition of Who's Who of American Women.

The publisher reports selections were based on prominence among women because of business or professional positions held, other vocational achievements, or contributions to community welfare.

Mrs. Stone was born in Guadalajara, Mexico, educated in American School at Guadalajara, Baltimore Public Schools, Los Angeles High School and earned her A.B. degree at University of California.

200 Present at Wedding Of Sanora Lee Hawkins to Edgar Paschal Lockhart

Before 200 guests last Saturday night, Sept. 9, at 7 o'clock, Sanora Lee Hawkins became the bride of Edgar Paschal Lockhart in a solemnly beautiful wedding ceremony performed at Trinity Presbyterian Church, Hastings Ranch. The minister, Rev. Donald H. Ostrander, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Allen Hawkins of 3310 E. Sierra Madre Blvd., Hastings Ranch (Pasadena), and the bridegroom the son of Mr. and Mrs. Payne E. Lockhart of 610 E. Sierra Madre Blvd., Sierra Madre. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Ronald Cuckler and the bridesmaids were the Misses Sharon Westover and Susie Mason, each of Pasadena; Miss Linda Ouch of Altadena, and Mrs. Emory Barnes, cousin of the bridegroom, of Bakersfield. Flower girl was Mrs. Cherie Hawkins, sister of the bride and ring bearer her brother, Michael Haw. bride; Gary Clarke of Montrose, and Raymond Rickman of Sierra Madre.

The reception was held at the church with 200 attending. After Sept. 20 the young couple will be at home at 1320 E. Michigan, Pasadena. The bride's gown comprised a Chantilly short sleeve bodice. The front was a plain organza skirt with apron trimmed in Chantilly—tied in the back at waistline with a bow. At the back there were tiers of organza ruffles beginning at the waistline and flowing down to form a chapel train. Her veil was a crown of pearls, bouffant fingertip, and her flowers a cascade of gardenias with white orchid center.

The matron of honor wore a gold satin dress, carried a cascade bouquet of shibuya carnations. Her hat had a gold satin crown and matching veil.

The bridesmaids were attired in shibuya satin dresses, shibuya satin crown hats

tor of poetry magazine, Palms, author of numerous books, poems published in national magazine articles. She was also founder and dean of the first summer session of the University of Guadalajara and has lectured on poetry and Mexico.

Sophomore Year Added At Alverno

Not only has Alverno Heights Academy added a freshman class of 142 to the 134 sophomore pioneers, but also five teachers and other facilities for both faculty and students.

Joining the pioneer staff, Sister M. Benigna, OSF, principal; Sister M. Jane, OSF, vice principal; and Sister M. Catherine, OSF; are Sister M. Marcella, OSF, who will head the art department; Sister M. Orlanda, OSF, the mathematics department and Sister M. Constance, OSF, the Latin and music department.

Mrs. Arthur Rowe joins the English department, Miss Gladys Maribona, Spanish department, and Miss Linda Marchand, the science department.

Portions of the former Barlow villa, have been renovated for student use. The former Barlow library, now the student library, has shelf space for 5,000 volumes, a reading room, and workrooms.

Other buildings on the property have been renovated to house an art center, nurse's room, faculty lounge and music studio.

In addition to the regular college preparatory and general course, Alverno Heights this fall is offering a special class in reading techniques. One freshman section is beginning a new course in modern algebra, and sophomores in advanced standing are taking space geometry in addition to the regular geometry program.

Holt Heads Demo Drive

Jim Holt of 571 Ramona, was appointed 49th Assembly district chairman for the "Dollars For Democrats" drive Sept. 22 through Oct. 2, following a meeting of district Democratic leaders.

Mrs. Edith Dane was named chairman and Miss Mabel Kay treasurer of the Sierra Madre door-to-door community wide drive.

More than 300 members of the 49 Assembly District Democratic clubs are expected to ring doorbells during the 11-day drive to ask registered Democrats to make a small contribution to their party.

"I am sure that every Democrat in Sierra Madre will support the drive this year by making a donation to their party to build the strong political organization needed for the 1962 campaign," Mr. Holt commented.

New Residents

Newcomers to Sierra Madre are Mr. and Mrs. Michael Soho and family who have come from Altadena to reside at 622 W. Alegria.

MR. AND MRS. HARRY LAUBER, formerly of Sierra Madre, now of Arcadia, are shown recently before boarding an SAS jet flight to Europe. The Laubers will spend five weeks abroad, visiting Paris, Copenhagen, London, Heidelberg, Rome, Venice and Switzerland.

Daniels in East To See U.S. Navy Commission Son

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel H. (Grace) Daniels of 380 W. Carter are back from a five-weeks tour which took them to Newport, R.I.; Hyannisport, on Cape Cod; Philadelphia, Washington, D.C., Denver and other points east and west.

In Newport, on Narragansett Bay, they witnessed the commissioning of their son, Richard F. Daniels, as an ensign in the U.S. Navy. He is now finishing extra studies at Philadelphia and shortly will fly to Japan where he has been assigned to a United States destroyer.

Mr. Daniels is widely known as a postal clerk in the Sierra Madre office.

Shakespearean Brunch Planned

Tall stately palm trees, surrounding a sparkling blue pool, will highlight the setting for a picnic-brunch to be held in the beautifully landscaped garden of Mrs. O. H. Maule, 3639 Locksley Dr., Pasadena, for 80 members and guests of the Shakespeare Clubs philanthropy department on Sept. 21, at 11 a.m.

According to Mrs. Jackson Holmes, social chairman, tables are to be set up around the pool area, for the buffet luncheon.

Friendship Club of S.M. Meets Today

Mrs. W. D. Nourse, president, Sierra Madre Community Friendship Club, announces first meeting of the fall series will be held today, Thursday, Sept. 14, at 2 p.m. in Armstrong Hall of the British Home, 847 Manzanita Ave., Sierra Madre, Mrs. Edgar C. Channel of Monrovia, president.

Residents of the Home will be honored guests. After the business session, Mrs. Caroline Converse, first vice president, also member of Pasadena Chapter, California Federation of Chaparral Poets, will present a program featuring readings of her poems. There also will be solos by Mrs. C. H. Seth of the British Home, accompanied by Dr. Raymond Pease, music chairman of the Friendship Club.

Tea will be served by the British Home recreation and entertainment committee, Mrs. Frank Marsh, chairman, assisted by Miss Mildred Webber of the Friendship Club; hostesses Mrs. David Bailey, Mrs. Ed Pic tor Nelson, residents of the Home and members of the Friendship Club.

Hansens Visit Vancouver, B.C.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hansen of 30 E. Bonita have been vacationing in Vancouver and British Columbia and Northwest U.S. points. Mr. Hansen is the owner of the Hansen-Ford agency at 120 W. Sierra Madre Blvd.

There are two ways to make progress — pay as you go, or stop at intervals to pay up.

VFW Plans Western Hop

The Veterans of Foreign Wars will stage their Western Dance Saturday night, Sept. 16, at the post rooms in the clubhouse at 40 E. Montecito, for members and their guests.

A buffet supper will be served from 6 to 9 o'clock. Dance music by the Greg Boghosian's band will start at 9.

Advisory dress for fun and comfort—jeans and calicos are suggested.

Kiwanis To Hear Health Educator

Charles Robinson, health educator, will address the Kiwanis Club at its next Tuesday's meeting. Mr. Robinson is an associate in the chronic respiratory disease department of the Tuberculosis and Health Association of Los Angeles County.

Faders Conclude Stay in Michigan

Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Fader of 166 S. Baldwin have returned from a several months' visit to their former home in Flint, Mich. Between fishing jaunts they also visited in and around Cadillac, Mich.

Most Versatile Shrub

Junipers Jack of All Trades In Garden World

Junipers are jacks of all trades in the garden world. You can use them to plant a parkway, border a walk or fill a foundation bed. You can tub them for display on a deck or feature them in rockeries. Taller ones can be planted as windbreaks or to soften the harsh lines of a house wall. And in every case, they do all you could ask of them.

If the junipers' uses are many, so, fortunately, are their varieties. There's no exaggeration in saying that half a hundred various kinds of junipers must be available in this state. Indeed, the California Association of Nurserymen claims that such a figure is on the low side.

By far the most frequent use for this versatile shrub family is to cover open areas of ground. In parkways and borders, or on hillsides that cry to be clothed with something green, there is no better shrub to use. The compact, spreading forms not only have eye-appeal, they make practically no demands on the gardener, resented unwanted attention and thriving on neglect. Water is their one like, and you need only supply it in moderation.

TO PRODUCE naturalizing effects in rockeries, the juniper is unequalled. The low, spreading Tamarix juniper and even lower Creeping junipers, of which several forms are found, blend with rocks and earth to produce nature's own garden. These are ideally planted on naturally rocky hillsides and it is worth hauling rocks in where rocks don't exist.

Of the larger, shrubby forms, the Pfizer juniper is best known. It makes a rather full foundation planting and an impassable, but friendly, divider between properties. It can be used in parkways, too, though Tamarix juniper is probably better.

The most highly prized juniper for planting against walls is the wild-looking Hollywood Twisted juniper. You won't fail to recognize it in nursery showyards, and believe us we say that to see it is to want it.

Ranch Roundup

By Joyce Wenger
SYcamore 8-4777

With Ranchers settling into the fall routine, come now announcements of meetings, meetings, and more meetings! I, for one, am looking forward to the stimulating hustle and bustle, and I hope you are, too.

Launching time for the annual Don Benito PTA "LU-nar-q" will be 6:30 p.m. Sept. 21. Parents and teachers will gather at the launching pad (D. B. Playground), to enjoy a barbecue and to meet old and new friends. Ray Summer, men's activities chairman, is in command of the LU-nar-Q. Tickets are $1.85, and may be purchased from any PTA board member or by calling EL. 5-3622.

Mrs. William Blakley, PTA president, urges reservations be made by Sept. 15, and—a reminder from Mrs. Fred Sawyer, chairman of room mothers, to attend the organization of room mothers at her home Sept. 14.

College Bound! Our area seems to have more than its share of bright and eager college freshmen and upper classmen, and what with a pleasure it is to meet some of them and learn of their plans. My apology to any of the young crowd I may have overlooked.

Headed for Berkeley are Pat Smith, Jack Gregory, John Calmer, Sharon Acton and Susie Spar, and to UCLA Cathy Alfredo.

Kathy and Don Moore to Los Angeles State. Steve Smith is attending the University of California at Riverside, and his brother, Ken, Orange County State College.

Linda McMann and Al Zeeman will study at San Jose State College and June Lindman at Fresno. Ed McKenzie returned to Annapolis and Bill Olds to the University of Michigan. Sherry Donahue and Bob Olds to Washington State College, and Rod Day to Harvard. Carol Siechert chose Stanford and Dick Biggar, Stanford Law School.

Craig Lockard and Steve Saurenman are at Redlands. Heading north to the University of Oregon is Jan Lindman, and at Lewis and Clark College, Susan Ostrander. At Occidental College this year: Kitty Osborn, Linda Jordan, Linda Smallman and Duke Morton.

Pomona College will be home now for Linda Dittbner and Kathy Griffith, and Claremont Men's College for Bob Blummer. Eric Cleworth at Cal Poly, and Ann Burdick chose Dominican College at San Rafael.

Carolyn Howell and Sally Swanson will attend University of Pacific, and Melinda Howell USC. Brigham Young University is the choice of: Gary Walburger, Terry Cressman, Ronnie Rositer, Judy Mortensen, Judy Warnick and Nancy Nielsen.

Attending Pasadena City College are Alfred Alvarez, Patty Cress, Carolyn Dunn, Karen Eberle, Ann Fricke, Judy Jennings, Dick Moore, Gary Miller, Mike Perlian, Jim Stivers and Joan Zeeman.

Catching up: Mrs. Elaine Marfoglia of Daverick, and her three children enjoyed Palm Springs over the Labor Day weekend. Edith Carter, daughter Judy and her mother, Mrs. Mabel Arthur relaxed at the new Islandia Hotel, San Diego. And Betty and Harvey Brown report they had a wonderful motor trip to Pittsburgh, Pa.; with youngsters Dave, Jan, and baby Carolyn.

Mrs. James Sullivan of Riviera Dr., led a workshop discussion last week at USC during the first regional conference on the Problems of Working Women. Mrs. Sullivan is the area older workers specialist with the Department of Employment.

Mrs. Aikman Armstrong and Mrs. Joseph Mangan, (directors of picnic and hospitality committees, respectively, for Eugene Field PTA) are hopeful parents will return the RSVP slip printed in the Field Flyer if they plan to attend the school picnic Sept. 21.

Seems last year's picnic became quite chaotic when 700 persons turned out after the committee had received just 200 reservations! Each family will bring their own picnic supper, but coffee and free ice cream will be provided; plus an opportunity to meet your youngsters' new teachers, and chat with old friends.

"Take Me Out to the Ball Game" is bound to be sung as Trinity's Clipper Club members board a chartered bus tomorrow night. Box lunches and a longfest will be enjoyed en route to see the Dodger-Milwaukee game.

Early reservations were made by Messrs. and Mmes. Ronald Rudolf, Bill Worden, Wayne Brannon, Lyle McIntyre, Joe Smyth, Don Davis, George Starrett, Bob Jones, Bill Woodard, Jim Carle, Hugh Livingston, Tony Kraft, Reese Brown, Bob Campbell, Craig Boorey and Phil Farrell.

Busy getting into the fall fashion swing are Shirley Thompson, Marilyn Campbell, Ricky Paul, Lillian Brown and Andria Beedle. These lovely girls model during the luncheon hours each Monday at the El Dorado Restaurant on New York Dr., Gullett and Harris on Kersting Court, Sierra Madre; Carol's Shop on Lake St., Altadena, and Lorraine Sutherland Shop in Alhambra have been supplying the fashions for these shows for several years. I look forward to seeing what our local models are showing this year; as well as having one of those yummy buffet luncheons!

In honor of the new Stanford University campus abroad in Tokyo, Japan, an Oriental atmosphere with decorated lanterns, a lighted waterfall and background music, with the buffet and dinner tables scattered around the pool in a colorful garden, will prevail as the setting for the membership dinner of the Pasadena Stanford Women's Club, Junior Division. It is slated for 7 p.m. on Wednesday, Sept. 20, at the home of Sheryl Wadsworth, 1433 Carmelita Place, Arcadia. Chairman is Mrs. W. R. Wood of Pasadena.

Newly elected president, Mrs. Charles Malouf of Arcadia, will be conducting her meeting following entertainment and "get-acquainted" games.

New officers assisting Mrs. Malouf throughout the year will be Mmes. James Bageman, vice president; William Jackson, secretary, and Philip M. Saeta, treasurer. Other board members include Mmes. George Kroeger, membership; Bruce Turnbull, scholarship; Roger Osenbaugh, thrift shop; Robert J. Malouf, social chairman; John W. McKittrick, phone, and Miss Sheryl Wadsworth, publicity.

Any girl living in the Pasadena-San Gabriel Valley area and who has graduated from Stanford within the last ten years is welcome and encouraged to attend the club's functions.

Persons desiring information about the club, or who are interested in attending the membership dinner may contact either Mrs. Charles Malouf at HI. 6-3668, or Mrs. George Kroeger at EL. 5-2274.

The American Home Division of the Shakespeare Club will hold its first social of the season in the way of a barbecue on Saturday night, Sept. 16, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Clarke, Thorndike Rd., Pasadena. Reservations must be made to Mrs. Carl A. Burt, chairman of the social committee, prior to that date.

Those working with Mrs. Burt are Mrs. Jack Patch, Mrs. Jack Rosander, Mrs. J. G. Servais, Mrs. R. E. Price and Mrs. Renolds Cairncross Jr.

THE HOMECOMING DINNER announced by the American Association for University Women reminds us summer is over and organization meetings will soon be crowding our calendar again. This one is scheduled for Thursday, Sept. 14, at Hamilton Elementary School. Miss Fritz Martin will give her impressions of the national convention and Miss Mildred Wellborn will show slides of her trip through Northeastern Canada.

NEW IN THE RANCH? If so, perhaps you do not have a copy of the Sierra Madre (and Hastings Ranch), Area City Directory. This is a handy gem that most Ranch families find indispensable. The Pacific Directory Company report they'll soon have the new edition out, but meanwhile there are a few 1960 editions available for the asking, at the Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce office at 366 West Sierra Madre Blvd.

LAKE TAHOE WAS SCENE of a Ranch gathering these last weeks of summer. Enjoying the perfect weather and water skiing daily were Jane and Bud Howell, (unfortunately, Bud had to return home one week on business); Betty and Pete Hurtig, Eileen and Horace Ray.

Present among the younger crowd were Carol and Carter Ray, Carol and Susie Hurtig and their guest, Melisa Knoll; Bruce Howell and his guest Larry Vick.

Stopping over for a visit with the above mentioned group were Ed and Ann Thomas, plus Linda and Larry; who were enroute to San Francisco. Ditto Mary and Donald Ostrander and youngsters Jan, Gil and Chris enroute to Oakland.

Carolyn Howell, student at the University of Pacific, is enthusiastic over her summer work for the Crippled Children's Society Day Camp. Her parents were pleased she could join them for one week at Tahoe. However, their daughter, Malinda, missed the fun, while ambitiously attending two summer sessions at USC.

Filipinos to Get Textbooks From Von's Grocery Co.

Von's Grocery Co. has delivered seven tons of discarded school textbooks to the United States Navy's U.S.S. Princeton. The books were delivered by the Navy to the Philippines in time for the new fall semester. In other years the outdated school textbooks would have been burned.

The books were collected by the residents of Delano, a small vegetable growing community in Central California where Von's Grocery Co. buys produce. After the books were cleaned, sorted and boxed Von's brought them to Los Angeles. Von's stored the books in one of its produce warehouses until the United States Navy had a ship going to the Philippines.

The books will be used by three school districts in the Philippines where ordinarily ten students share one textbook. Seamen of the U.S.S. Princeton under the auspices of Chaplain Austin will deliver the books to school districts on Luzon and Panay Island, not far from Bataan.

Benefit Luau Plans Made

Rejoicing over the number of reservations coming in for the "Polynesian Paradise" party to be held at the Tikis in South San Gabriel, Sept. 30, members of the board of the Arcadia Republican Women's Club gathered at the home of Mrs. C. O. Porter for a moment of relaxation and to discuss costumes to be worn.

The lush tropical setting of the Tikis with its jungle, waterfall and tunnels is the perfect "island" paradise for the benefit which promises an evening to be filled with fun and gaiety.

Hawaiian entertainers will delight their audience with authentic hulas, sword and fire dances, and "The Red-coats" will play for dancing and provide background music.

The Polynesian feast will feature several kinds of pit-cooked meats and guests will dine on low tables "Polynesian" style.

'Red Weapon Of Allure' Is Seiler Topic

"Communist Weapon of Allure," a 30-minute film which explains why people become Communists, is the first half of a double-barreled program which will feature retired Commander Dayton A. Seiler as the speaker when the Arcadia Republican Women's Club meets on Thursday, Sept. 21, at 10:15 a.m. at Eaton's Restaurant.

Commander Seiler, a member of Coast Federal Savings Free Enterprise Speakers Bureau, will speak on the topic, "Collectivism, a Satanic Conspiracy."

He is married, the father of six children, and resides in Hastings Ranch.

A graduate of the U.S. Naval Academy, he earned his masters degree in science at the California Institute of Technology.

Commander Seiler has a broad background in the electronics and missile fields, having been associated with many widely-known Navy programs. Seiler has spurned many enticing offers from business firms engaged in these fields and presently is devoting full time to speaking on the dangers of Communism to the Free World—dangers learned firsthand from his years with the Navy.

Elected at this meeting will be the nominating committee who will choose next year's club officers.

Final plans for the gala benefit party at the Tikis in South San Gabriel, Sept. 30, will be discussed.

Reservations to attend the Sept. 21 meeting can be made by calling Mrs. C. O. (Bobbie) Porter at HI. 7-5418, or Mrs. James Spurlock at EL. 5-6164. The public is invited.

Now that school is upon us, almost every periodical is expounding with ideas and recipes for making the lunch box attractive to the young students.

I can imagine my children's dismay if they bit into a tasty sandwich of blue cheese with anchovies. I'd have to run for the hills.

It's not that I lack imagination; it is just that we have bred a new race that likes any kind of sandwich as long as it's PEANUT BUTTER! The Commies don't realize that they have a real easy way to take over this country. They wouldn't have to sneak around with all this cloak and dagger stuff. All they would have to do would be to ruin the crops of peanuts and thereby take peanut butter off the buyer's market. I'd almost guaranteed that the entire nation would come unglued and starve to death!

Mrs. George Amthor was really surprised last Saturday evening. She went with her husband to what she thought was a supper club party at the A. J. Hughes on Old House Rd. When she arrived she found the club had expanded itself for one evening to include several additional couples, all there to give her a surprise baby shower.

The group had prepared several significant table decorations and played matching the adults to their baby pictures game. My, how we've changed! Guests included Mr. and Mrs. John Wiles, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Germaine, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Paquette, Mr. and Mrs. John Eppard, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Monteir, Mr. and Mrs. Arturo Gutierrez, Mr. and Mrs. BeBn Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller, Mr. and Mrs. eGorge Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Klingerman and ourselves.

I talked to Mrs. Skipper Rostker, president of the Eugene Field PTA, the other day, and she is anxiously looking for quarters for the new third grade teacher, Noel Livesay, one of the exchange teachers here from Lancaster, England.

Inasmuch as he will have no car, it is almost mandatory that he is within walking or bicycling distance. Due to the exchange, Mr. Livesay is not long on financial backing, and it is hoped that someone will want to lend a hand across the seas and make him feel welcome in our country. Mrs. Rostker may be contacted at SY. 7-1941.

Editor's Note—a want ad depicting the above appeared in last week's SIERRA MADRE NEWS. In a day's time 13 replies were received offering proper accommodations for Mr. Livesay, so his needs in this respect are well met. He does, however, need companionship from Americans and would welcome acquaintances of his own age.

Just learned that Cindy Calopedis, a popular young girl who lived with her aunt, Mrs. James Smart, for awhile, was married last Saturday morning at a nuptial mass at the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary Church. Her mother is Mrs. P. H. Calopedis. The bridegroom, Al Lammens, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lammens of Pasadena.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Goldsworthy of Fairpoint left last Saturday, via BOAC, on the first leg of their six-weeks journey through Europe. They plan to pick up a car and tour all over the Continent, stopping when they feel like it.

Babies are always good news. The Carl G. Warnick family of Sierra Madre Villa are really basking in the pleasure of the first grandchild born to the family. The baby was born to their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Warnick, on Sept. 3. He weighed 8 pounds, 5½ ounces and has been named Jeffrey Todd. As Susan put it, "He is just wonderful—he has dark curly hair!"

Dr. and Mrs. Harry Pulasky of Doyle Rd. hosted a potluck dinner party last week for the members of a weekend excursion group and their wives. This group of men go off on camping trips principally to relax and take pictures.

This party was planned to view all the films which they have taken in the past year. The night was so lovely they set the screen outside and had their pictures under the stars.

The group included Mr. and Mrs. Larry Deitzel, Mr. and Mrs. Neal Batterson, Mr. and Mrs. William Nash, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Marvoshi, Mr. and Mrs. Richard English, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dare, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Deitzel, Mr. and Mrs. Russel Stuart, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Cheesman, Dr. and Mrs. John Evans and Jim Kirsh.

The Carl Warwicks of Sierra Madre Villa had their three-week vacation at their summer home at Mac's Inn, which is on the North Fork of the Snake River in Yellowstone.

Shakespeare Juniors Plan Mumu Party

Muumuu - clad Shakespeare Club Juniors and prospective members will receive Hawaiian leis from a giant sea shell on Thursday, Sept. 14 at the club's annual membership party entitled "Wahine - Welcome." The party will be held in the gardens of Mrs. S. Glen Hickman Jr.'s Arcadia home. Gaily colored umbrellas will shade tables decorated with miniature beach scenes with palms, hula girls and outrigger canoes. Mrs. Harlan L. Heath is in charge of decorations.

Greeting guests will be Mmes. James W. Potter, chairman of the party; Franklin A. Williams, president of the Juniors, and George E. Berger, vice president.

Thirty - five prospective members will be entertained by Mmes. William R. Allen, F. S. Humphrey and Henry C. Foes Jr.

Others assisting will be Mmes. Ira C. Matthiessen, invitations; Lee H. Darrow and Bruce Macfarlane, reservations; Thomas J. Taylor, William H. Henry, Robert F. Hayes, John B. La Bosky, James O. Schilllin, Theodore H. Yale, Edward F. Bulmahn, Fred E. Bell and Robert M. Spanjan.

FOR ATHLETE'S FOOT

Use instant-drying T-4-L for 3 to 5 days. Watch fresh, healthy skin replace the infection. Ease aching, swelling, perspiring in the 66 joints of the feet by bathing them with T-4-L twice daily. If not surprised and pleased, your feet back from any drug store. NOW at Hartman Drug, Sierra Madre.

Medic Group Is Scheduling Busy Season

Under leadership of Mrs. Kurt Gunther of Arcadia, members of Foothill District 13, Woman's Auxiliary to the Los Angeles County Medical Association, look forward to an interesting and informative schedule for the coming year.

Projects to be continued include support of the American Medical Education Foundation, Health Career Clubs in local high schools, the GEMS, and the annual Essay Contest for high school students.

Programs for the year will include speakers and discussions on income tax, narcotics, counter-spy activities and estate planning as well as a literary presentation by Edna Stearns Dayton, a Christmas dance and a membership coffee, the latter to be held on Sept. 21 at the Westerner in Arcadia.

THE NEW PRESIDENT. Mrs. Gunther brings enthusiasm as well as experience in this and other organizations. She was born in Lafayette, Ind., but spent the first 16 years of her life in Pontiac, Mich.

Pat was graduated from Purdue University, where she majored in dietetics, was president of the Purdue Players, president of the Big Sister organization, member of the dramatic honorary as well as the home economics and educational honorary societies, on the staff of the school paper and a distinguished student.

The Stanford Hospital in San Francisco, where Pat took her dietetic internship, was her first introduction to California. She returned to Indiana to work as an administrative dietitian at Indiana University for a year before becoming a permanent resident of California. She met and married her internist husband while she was a dietitian at the Santa Barbara County Hospital and he was taking his residency there. While in Santa Barbara, Pat was secretary of the local Dietetic Association.

THE GUNTERS have resided in Arcadia for the past eight years, during which time Pat has served as president of the Santa Anita Highlands Garden Club, president of the Kappa Kappa Gamma Alumnae Association, canteen chairman for the Red Cross and an active member of the hospital auxiliary. She has just completed her provisional year in the Assistance League of Arcadia. Other positions Pat has held in the Medical Auxiliary, District 13, include first vice president, treasurer for two years and hos-

New Bridge Games Slant

Mrs. H. C. Johansen, president of Hastings Ranch Nursery School, announced something new in bridge tournaments—a singles tournament for women only.

This should turn up the undisputed top player in this area. Every player will be on her own merits, playing with three different women each time, at their own convenience.

Oaks PTA Board Honors Faculty

A welcome break in a day of meetings was provided the faculty of the Highland Oaks School last Friday, Sept. 8, when the school PTA board entertained them with a salad bar luncheon at the Mrs. Ray Armstrong home, 1305 Rodeo Rd.

Mrs. Ray Biggerstaff, president of the PTA board, welcomed the teachers, office staff, and principal, Miss Pearl Dillingham. Miss Dillingham introduced the teachers new to the Highland Oaks School and asked each of the returning teachers to stand and introduce themselves to the board.

The News next week will contain an unusually interesting advertisement concerning Sally Clark's Dancing School for the coming season. Be sure to watch for it.

Health Of Child Is Vital To Both Parents, School

K. H. Sutherland, M.D.
Los Angeles County Health Officer

Our children are at school, and whether they are adequately prepared for the experience depends almost wholly on a adults who are responsible for their welfare. Chief among these individuals are the child's parents.

There are certain questions all parents should ask themselves before their child starts to school and perhaps the most important one is, "When did my child last have a complete examination by a physician?" If more than a year has elapsed since it was given, another physical checkup is due.

For, when all is said and done, it is parents who have the major responsibility for health of their children, whether of school age or younger. In case of the school-age child, however, it is a responsibility that school officials must share because so much of the child's time is spent in the school environment. Community agencies are also concerned in varying degrees, particularly health departments which provide immunizations against certain communicable diseases.

Los Angeles County generally provide certain health services when a child enters school and these include a physical examination, dental checkup, vision and hearing tests. These tests should be repeated at intervals throughout the child's school life, otherwise any deviations from the normal that later develop may go undetected for several years - or

PUBLIC SCHOOLS in Los Angeles County generally provide certain health services when a child enters school and these include a physical examination, dental checkup, vision and hearing tests. These tests should be repeated at intervals throughout the child's school life, otherwise any deviations from the normal that later develop may go undetected for several years - or

It is preferable for parents to have a periodic consultation with the teacher or school nurse and, if not informed, it is their task to find out precisely what observations have been made on their child's physical condition and personality, what tests have been given and the findings of these tests, and if, through accident or neglect on their part, there has been any lack of follow-up on recommendations that may previously have been made by the school physician or nurse.

A conference of this nature provides the parent an excellent opportunity to discover whether there are any social or emotional maladjustments that may have developed which, owing to the opportunity for observation and to training and experience, the teacher is most likely to observe.

It is also the teacher who is best situated to make health services an educational experience for the children under her care, so that healthful living habits and knowledge of the body's functions will remain with them through the years. By way of the children she may also reach the parents and per chance correct faulty health habits within the family group.

THE HEALTH of the school child is increasingly the focus of attention in this disturbed and disturbing world, for children find it more difficult to reach their full potential as responsible and well-adjusted adults when struggling against some physical or mental handicap. This is particularly unfortunate when the defect is one that can be corrected.

It is worth remembering that although the skills and services of a number of individuals including professional workers in schools and in voluntary and public agencies are freely given, the primary responsibility for the health of the school child rests with the parents who, whenever possible, should keep the child under the supervision of the family physician.

Horizon Home Roof Raised

Builder-developer Gregory Snyder, president of the Greg Snyder Development Company, literally "raised the roof" in style here last week when he installed a steel reinforced concrete roof weighing more than 75 tons on his Balanced Power Horizon Home. Snyder's Horizon Home is entered in a national contest sponsored by the combined concrete industries.

There are 20 sections of the roof in 4, 5 and 12-foot widths, measuring 28 and 30 feet long and 7½ inches thick.

A 60-ton rig with a 50 foot boom was required to set the sections, precast on the jobsite, into position on this modern and functional home. The hoisting job required eight hours.

Snyder's Horizon Home utilizes dramatic new uses for concrete and glass and will be open for display by National Home Week which begins Sept. 23.

The C. of C. Needs YOU!

If properly backed by the business, civic and governmental elements, a Chamber of Commerce can become a power for progress in any city.
The Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce has that potential, but just now it needs an uplift, not a minor but a major one.
If it is to function as it should, it needs members who are ready, not only to join, pay their dues, but also to attend its meetings, put their shoulders to the wheels and help make this truly "The Little Foothill City of Livability."
As a starter we suggest that every apartment house owner and every merchant who are not now members, contact Joe Delgatto and join up.
It'll be good for the city in which you already have invested — help you to protect that investment.
The genial Joe will be found at the Pantorium, 330 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., and his phone number is ELgin 5-6474. Phone him today.

It's Time For Prayer

The people of the world, including those of the United States, face the possibility — even the imminency — of "The Murder of the World."
For nuclear warfare, once it is launched upon a help-less world, can mean just that.
Nikita Khrushchev or Mao of China, regarding his millions as just "cannon fodder", hold it within their power to unleash mass murder throughout all nations, including their own, and Khrushchev, with his explosions of lethal nuclear power, had advised Mao of his murderous intentions.
What shall the people of the United States do in the face of this possible "Slaughter of the Innocents?"
This newspaper suggests prayer, not fragmentary, but earnest, sincere, daily prayer seeking Divine guidance not only for ourselves and our land but for the peoples of all nations — Soviet Russia, Red China, the Satellites, England, France, West and East Germany, India, Pakistan, the African and Asian countries.
This newspaper believes in the efficacy of prayer — Christian prayer.
It believes that man, physically, through his Space Age, is getting closer to God.
Now, it believes — and urges — that he get closer to God spiritually, through prayer.
It believes that if every American — the Reds, Pinks and fellow-travelers excluded — will kneel daily, morning and night, and pray for world peace it will be granted.
We have become a nation of pseudo (make-believe) Christians.
Now it is time — high time — that we become a nation of genuine, God-fearing Christians — praying Christians.

Too Fat About the Belly

Have Americans lost their once inherent pride in their workmanship?
Have they become slaphash in caring to perform their daily tasks in the once painstaking fashion that was "a Yankee trademark?"
Have they lost the self-respect that motivates one to do the best possible job?
In an editorial in Today's Secretary, a McGraw-Hill publication, its editor, Mary Jollon, says they have, and those of us who have witnessed and experienced some of the badly put together articles we buy, from automobiles to kitchen utensils, and some of the jobs we have done, will reecho her words in which she flays the apathy of more and more American workers who care less and less for the calibre of work they perform.
"The Russians," she comments, "have now orbited two men in space. We're sure that no one involved in the undertaking harbored a 'don't care attitude.' Hard work, tenacity and a will to do the utmost — and then some — are the big reasons why they succeeded."
"And did you ever stop to think — indirectly but truly that another reason might be you?"
Miss Jollon cites examples of slipshod workmanship — the new coffee table that arrives with one leg shorter than the others, the expensive dress that lacks a button before it is even tried on, the car that remains "a lemon" all of its existence, the sloppy business letters that get into the mail, the unwillingness to buckle down to a rush job even after an hour of social chitchat on company time, the disinterest in anything that involves a little extra work.
She sees two reasons for this personal decline: (1) the average worker feels protected — by a union membership, by job seniority, by a scarcity of workers in his field, by the "why bother" attitude of a boss who condones laxity.
This, she says, insures automatic raises, small promotions, an ease that negates the theory of knocking oneself out, and it assures the mediocre worker that there is small chance that he can be fired. In line with the new American goal, security, workers tend to join one company and stay with it, happy in the thought that there's a pension at the end of the rainbow. There is no need for the challenge of putting a best foot forward to keep or rise in a new position.
(2) The "who cares" attitude is infectious. It can start with one worker, spread through a department, a company, even, in time, through a country. So contagious is the attitude that the conscientious worker, the ambitious aspirant finds it difficult to go against the tide.
He can spend hours cajoling, checking, urging — and find himself beating his head against the proverbial stone

Adventures of a 'Broke' Citizen

EDITOR'S NOTE—Den Murphy is back with us again, even though it took a broken tibia (leg to you, gentle reader) to accomplish this. To make it terse, we might say that by now Den is thoroughly "house Broken," a la tibia and with courage and fortitude, can write humorously about his accident and stay in the hospital. Here it is:

By Den Murray

"Get the facts, Den! If you're going to submit an article to this newspaper purporting to reveal the plight of a Sierra Madrean who has suddenly become the victim of a disabling accident requiring hospitalization—I demand facts!"
Did I dream Ed-E. Herwig of the Sierra Madre News had given me this assignment? Or — as in the days of the ancient Persian Magis — had it come curling out of the magic bottle to in-fumigate me with hallucinations?

Makes no difference. The order was real to me. I felt my smog-shot eyes heating up with missionary zeal. Through me flooded the thrill of Stanley as James Gordon Bennett of the New York World told him: "Go to Africa. Find Doctor Livingston!" I was prepared to die for my editor and his precious facts.

As it turned out I compromised and broke only my leg. In two places though! Remember that when you're handing out plaques for bravery and conduct beyond the realm of commonsense. Parted the old tibia in neat, spaced thirds just below the knee and just above the ankle.

The circumstances and situs I chose were highly dramatic. The bathroom about 10:30 p.m. And here I must acknowledge valuable assistance from the little woman who is my beloved helpmate even in projects such as this.
She sees to it that our high glossed bathroom linoleum is as easy to glide over as a skating rink. She even provides the skates in the form of fluffy pink throw rugs.
I was wearing underwear and a three day growth of beard. The radio was blasting out a game winning Dodger rally in the bottom of the ninth. It was also covering the sound of the now forgotten water faucets filling the tub.

The game successfully over I choked off the exultant Vince Skully and heard the runoff drain strangling. Striking to the rescue I managed to foot one of the fluffy pink skates.

Only the strains of the "Blue Danube" or "Skater's Waltz" were missing as I skinned gracefully and forcefully against the white porcelain wall of the tub. There was a sound like a broken bat single to left and I was on the floor howling in pain while throttling the faucets.

In the adventure and battlefield stories I read — guys with broken legs largely ignore them. They are forever seizing a machine gun and single-leggedly stemming the enemy advance. Or maybe wrenching a substitute limb off a tree and hobbling five miles to warn of the approach of the Mau Mau.

Invariably they are reported as performing these feats with their teeth tightly clenched against rising pain and nausea. Since mine was basking elsewhere in a polident bath at the time, I couldn't have clenched them against Khrushchev if he'd popped his punkin' head in.

I don't know how Stanley was fixed for snakebite remedy when he struck the shores of Darkest Africa. But I was fairly well fortified for whatever lay ahead when I struck the tub.

Hence, the telephone at the top landing of the stairs didn't seem beyond my capabilities. Making like a snake I headed for it. Alas, lacking teeth to clench them back, the roars of pain marked every inch of progress as they escaped and rent the tranquil neighborhood air.

My landlord, Mr. Vulkoff, a kindly thoughtful man, doubtless thought of his other tenants a block away as his carpan registered the sleep-disturbing noises. He came up the stairs saying: "Just because the Dodgers won —" and then was breaking off to dial our ever-doubling-in-brass Sierra Madre police.

Quicker than a swallow, Officer B. L. (Billy) Keith was on the spot with a mercy squad filled out by Col-leagues Carnighan and Tucker.

At sight of their gleaming badges I automatically fumbled for my driver's license. Before I had discovered there are no pockets in a pair of shorts they had me expertly stretched and on my way to our Sierra Madre hospital.

This young, excellently-staffed institution was found not yet equipped to handle orthopedic (severe broken bone) cases.

It is, however, a member of the county's praiseworthy Emergency Aid Plan. Some 50 private hospitals in the county are signed up in this program. When an emergency victim is brought in — regardless of his financial status — he is admitted instantly and cared for.

Later, if he proves he can't pay, the hospital bills the county which does pay.

Where a member hospital is unequipped to handle the case (as with me) the patient is whisked by private or county ambulance to the widespread nationally famous Los Angeles County General with its almost limitless skills and facilities.

More about the excellent TAP and Los Angeles General later. I'm back to the receiving room of the Sierra Madre Hospital where (through my own ignorance of the EAP) I'm being passed along to a private ambulance for transport to a highly reputable hospital in Arcadia (not a member of EAP).

It was at this hospital that my poverty undid me. If you wish to know what to do — and what not to do — when you are broke in both purse and body — ogle this space next week. You'll get smarted up.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Den's next installment contains a few frank smiles and a hole lot of thought-provoking, highly encouraging facts for long suffering taxpayers. Don't miss them).

OUT OF THE COWBEBES

52 Years Ago This Week. Sept. 17, 1909 — Forest and brush fires have been numerous and threatening during the week. Fire was first reported in the neighborhood of Mt. Pacifico, 15 or 20 miles north of Mt. Wilson, from where the fire could be plainly seen. Later, another fire appeared in the neighborhood of Coldbrook above Rincon. On Monday night Sierra Madre was treated to a display of considerable magnitude when a big grass and brush fire attained headway on the Puente Hills across San Gabriel Valley. The fire burned most of the following day covering many square miles before it burned itself out.

J. A. Patterson, hustling manager of the Sierra Madre Telephone and Telegraph Company, is the new secretary of the Board of Trade.

Mrs. E. J. Morggridge entertained at a luncheon Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. King Randall of Los Angeles, and Miss Alice Tufts.

20 Years Ago This Week. Sept. 18, 1941 — Notables from many Southland communities will be present at Wistaria Vine Gardens Saturday afternoon to take part in the benefit tea which has been arranged by Princess Der Ling to help swell the United China Relief Fund. Mrs. Harry Houdini, widow of the world's greatest magician, will present the Madrigals, a troupe of 15 Southern California girls, in a series of clever magic acts. They will appear in Chinese costume.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Mobley and Tom Schwartz Jr., returned from a vacation at Rock Creek above Bishop, where they witnessed one of the most spectacular upheavals of nature in many years. They were still camped at their favorite fishing spot when the series of earthquakes in the High Sierra struck the region Sunday, and they saw huge avalanches of boulders which swept the valley, dislodging tons of dirt which covered the region in an impenetrable cloud of dust for several minutes. The Sierra Madre party succeeded in getting out only after 15 men moved one of the large boulders from the road. Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Reaves and their son Clay, who were also fishing at Rock Creek, have gone to Redding for deer hunting.

11 Years Ago This Week. Sept. 14, 1950 — Mt. Wilson Trail has been closed to the public because of extreme fire hazards. The trail will be closed from Carter and through Orchard Camp. Hikers may now reach Mt. Wilson by way of Chantry Flats and the Mt. Zion Trail which are still open to the public.

Today, Sept. 14, will be a historic day in Sierra Madre. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon, the California edition of the Freedom Bell will arrive here for appropriate ceremonies. The bell, symbolic of the Grand Bell which will be unveiled in Berlin in October, is a part of the nationwide program being pushed by the Crusade for Freedom, a plan to raise funds for the establishment of five radio stations in Europe which will reach the people behind "The Iron Curtain" with the story of America. The Freedom Bell will be greeted in Sierra Madre's City Park by hundreds of school children, their parents and hundreds of adults. Mayor William A. Kenney will officially welcome the bell on behalf of the city.

6 Years Ago This Week. Sept. 15, 1955 — Dr. Clinton C. McPheeters has been appointed pastor of the Sierra Madre Methodist Church at W. Sierra Madre Blvd. and Michillinda. Dr. McPheeters comes to the community with many years of experience on both East and West Coasts and has most recently been a member of the staff of Trinity Methodist Church in Los Angeles.

Seven hundred and forty-seven Sierra Madre Public School pupils checked in for the first day of school Tuesday. This is an increase of 16 over last year's figure of 731 who were present the opening day at the Highland Ave. School at Highland and N. Auburn, and the Sierra Vista School, Highland and Canon, Charles A. Skutt, superintendent of schools, announced today.

ATTEMPTED BURGLARY. Mrs. Hazel M. Hardin reported to police a possible attempt to break into the garage at her home at 458 N. Baldwin. An attempt had been made to break the lock.

De Gaulle Knows How to Handle Russ

By Robert G. Spivack

WASHINGTON
The old master — Of all the chiefs of state in the Western World, Gen. Charles de Gaulle of France seems the calmest, most analytic and realistic in his appraisal of the "arbitrary and artificial" crisis of Berlin created by Nikita Khrushchev, rock-et-rattling peace-lover.

It might be of value for our own leaders to listen attentively to de Gaulle's statements during this crisis. There is much to learn from the tactics he uses rather than to continue the hit-and-miss formula that characterizes both the British and the United States in this increasingly grave situation.

The language of de Gaulle's recent press conference reads almost like a primer on how to handle totalitarian tyrants in the face of continued provocation.

In the matter of world tensions de Gaulle, of course, is not a newcomer.

During World War II some Frenchmen adopted safety-first as their national credo and the Vichyites saw Hitlerism as the wave of the future. But it was de Gaulle who demonstrated the capacity for courage and competence in dealing with bullies and terrorists.

I am not suggesting that this automatically endows him with perfection or that his wisdom is infallible. But his behavior has been in marked contrast to the ruderless American approach evident since President Kennedy went to Vienna to meet Khrushchev.

De Gaulle keeps his eye on the ball. He makes no lofty pretensions. He does not engage in political fantasy. Two examples illustrate the difference between the de Gaulle approach and the Anglo-American: (1) the matter of Berlin negotiations (2) our position in relation to nuclear testing.

What are we negotiating? There has been a lot of mumbo-jumbo among the diplomats about sitting down to negotiate the "problem" of Berlin. The self-styled "neutralists" are urging that we proceed at once to the conference table.

It sounds reasonable until you get down to details. What is the "problem" of Berlin? Is it real or, as de Gaulle suggests, a smoke-screen camouflaging turmoil behind the Iron Curtain?

Let's assume that, for the moment, there really is a Berlin problem. It would seem a good idea to define it. Is the "problem" the presence of RIAS, the Free Radio in the American sector? Is it the behavior of German "militarists and revenge-seekers" as the Soviets claim? Or is it that millions in the Eastern Zone have increasingly discovered how unattractive the Soviet version of Utopia can be and consequently want their freedom?

If we are going to negotiate — and some day in a less turbulent atmosphere this will be desirable — what do we consider worthwhile and attainable objectives? We know what the Russians want. Do we know what we want?

Before we proceed helter-skelter to a conference table with Mr. Khrushchev might we not, at least, draw up a minimum program? As a starting point should we insist that freedom of travel and communication be restored inside Berlin? We might even suggest that not only West Berlin, but all Soviet-held territory west of Berlin, be incorporated into the Federal Republic. Then there is no problem of "access."

What did we do? First the President assured the nation we were in good shape and there was no cause or military alarm. Then within a week we expressed "hope" that the Soviets would quit misbehaving and gave them a deadline. Finally we announced our intention to begin underground testing, with hints that we shall be "soaked in."

News From Sacramento

Motor Vehicle Head Not A Politician

By Henry C. MacArthur
(Capitol News Service—Special to the Sierra Madre News)

SACRAMENTO. — At least one good thing has resulted from the Brown-McCarthy fiasco, which rocked state government when Robert I. McCarthy, former state senator from San Francisco resigned as state director of motor vehicles, and charged Governor Edmund G. Brown with running a "spineless" administration.

Brown retaliated by claiming McCarthy was engaging in political "blackmail" in attempting to force the Governor to appoint him attorney general in the event Stanley Mosk is elevated to the State Supreme Court.

The good thing that resulted is the appointment of Tom M. Bright, 54, who was deputy director of the department under McCarthy, in McCarthy's place.
The department directorship carries a salary of $20,947 annually and Tom Bright's long and efficient service to the State of California merits his appointment to the post, even if it only lasts until Jan. 1, 1963, when there is a possibility a new Governor may take over. In which event Bright could return to his job as chief of the division of administration in the department.

Bright, a former newspaperman, has pulled several Governors "out of the hole" when they were stuck with problems involving public and press relations.
His career in government began in 1947, when he became public relations officer or the Department of Motor Vehicles, which he now heads. He helped former Governor Earl Warren start publicity on the Traffic Safety Committee meetings held annually in Sacramento, and a good many times, was called upon to help the Governor's office out in other publicity campaigns.

Former Governor Goodwin J. Knight recognized Bright's ability both in the public relations field, and in the administrative field, and used his services successively as departmental secretary, press secretary and executive secretary.

The new motor vehicle director, however, isn't a politician and he chose to return to the Department of Motor Vehicles in 1958, prior to Brown's election, as assistant division chief of administration. A year later he was named chief of the division.

As a newspaperman, Bright has an enviable record with the Kansas City Star, and United Press Association, which he served in Kansas City, Des Moines, Omaha, Butte, Los Angeles, and Hollywood, later coming to the Sacramento Bureau, after Navy service in World War II. He now holds a commander's rank in Naval Reserve.

Operation of the Department of Motor Vehicles is no small job. It involves licensing every vehicle in the State of California, countless changes of registration every time a car is sold or transferred from another state, regulation of used car dealers, also automobile junk yards, and probably the most important of all, maintenance and regulation of drivers' licenses, which run into the millions.

wall. He winds up either joining the "indifferents" or doing extra work himself. If he does the latter — even the most dedicated worker can do only so much — in spite of his efforts, the department, the company, or, in time, the country will start slipping, further and faster.

This newspaper has repeatedly advanced the premise that Americans generally have become figuratively and even physically and mentally, "too fat about the belly," and that this is a national danger.

We repeat this statement. It's high time that we turn out a good day's work for a good day's pay and to care for what happens to our country. If we don't we can kiss it goodnight — the Reds will move in.

RICK APPLETON this summer took a group of inexperienced swimmers and divers and melded them into a formidable unit combatting successfully their opponents from neighborhood cities. Here we view five girls who placed in the 13 and 14-year old group swimming the 50-yard free style. From the left:—Priscilla Marroni, third place; Linda Hudson, fourth; Melba Griffin, first and winner; Penny Ward, fifth, and Sandes Fox, second.

WE GLIMPSE boys who fought it out in the 100-yard breast stroke for 15-16-year-olds. From the left: Bryan Davlin of La Puente, first; Roger Keith, Sierra Madre, second, and Leonard Betts, Covina, third.

S. M. Swimming Team In First Season Scores Worthwhile Win Record

Fourteen swimmers of the Sierra Madre Swimming Team took medals and ribbons at the recent California Swimming League finals. All five teams in the league participated in the meet held at La Puente High School on Aug. 12.

Since this was the first league finals meet, all the first place times were considered records, five of which belong to Sierra Madre swimmers.

Kathy Brown took first in the girls 11 and 12 division for the 50-yard back stroke while Laureen Davidson took two wins, one in the 100-yard breast stroke and the other in the 100-yard freestyle.

Melba Griffin was Sierra Madre's other double winner with firsts in the 50-yard butterfly and in the 50-yard freestyle.

OTHER MEDALISTS (placing first, second, or third) and ribbon winners (placing fourth, fifth, or sixth) were: Tom Nickoloff, Chris Cholewicki, age 10, 5th, 50-yard free; 4th, 50-yard back; 4th, 100-yard free; Greg Bealer, age 9, 2nd, 50-yard butterfly; Margaret Keith, 2nd, 50-yard back; John Nickoloff, age 11, 5th, 50-yard back and 6th, 200-yard free.

Also Keith Casenhiser, age 11, 4th, 50-yard butterfly; Frank Kromka, age 12, 6th, 50-yard breast stroke; Penny Ward, age 13, 3rd, 100-yard back and 5th, 50-yard freestyle; Mike Bowler, age 14, 2nd, 50-yard free; Alan Hartley, age 14, 4th, 100-yard breast stroke; and Roger Keith, 2nd, 100-yard breast stroke.

Von's Will Give Textbook Covers

Von's and Shopping Bag food stores will award free school book covers to students for the new fall semester, beginning on Thursday, Sept. 14. More than one-half million beautifully illustrated California designed textbook covers will be given free of charge, no purchase is required, to elementary, junior high and high school students. All 74 Von's and Shopping Bag food stores will participate.

Pilat Honored

Among 79 members of the class of 1961 at the University of California's Santa Barbara Campus who received honors upon graduation is Peter Pilat of 320 E. Grand View, Sierra Madre. Majoring in history, he maintained a B to B-plus average during his four years in college.

Girl Scout Day At Pomona Fair

Sept. 16 is Girl Scout Day at the Los Angeles County Fair in Pomona. All Girl Scouts in uniform will be admitted to the fairgrounds without charge.

The theme of the Girl Scout booth at the fair is "Blossoms for the Birthday Years" in honor of the 50th Anniversary of Girl Scouting in the United States.

Tiny yellow rosebuds, similar to the new Girl Scout Rose will be given to visitors at the Girl Scout booth.

Republicans Of Foothills Plan Dance

Foothill Republicans have scheduled their annual dance for Saturday evening, Sept. 20, from 8:30 p.m. to 1 a.m., in the gardens of the James Cross residence at 284 Hacienda Dr., Arcadia.

Invitations may be obtained from Mrs. R. G. Morse at 1321 Highland Oaks Dr., Arcadia.

All Foothill residents are invited to attend.

Girl's Hand Cut By Broken Glass

A cut sustained accidentally when her right hand came in contact with a broken window pane sent Janie McCoy, 7, of 232 Ramona, to the Sierra Madre Medical Center for treatment by Dr. Thomas R. Pickren. The cut was not serious. Janie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James L. McCoy.

Mrs. Davis Gains $2,900 Scholarship

Among 60 California social workers each awarded $2,900 scholarships for graduate study in child welfare services, is Mrs. Delcia B. Davis of 41 Olive Ave., Sierra Madre, a student at USC.

The scholarships are given by the State Department of Social Welfare and are financed with a part of $930,000 in Federal Child Welfare funds allotted to California for the 1961-62 fiscal year.

LIFE Magazine has chosen Builder Robert H. Grant as a member of its 1961 Homebuilding Marketing Council—the only builder in the Los Angeles metropolitan area to be so honored. The Robert H. Grant Company's new STAR-DUST HOMES offer 3 and 4 bedrooms, 2 baths, large living rooms, family room or dining area, and such features as hardwood floors, acoustic ceilings, Gaffers & Sattler built-in gas ranges, disposers, mahogany cabinets and paneling. $15,300-$17,000, no down to vets; FHA and VA terms. From Santa Ana Frwy., s/n Beach Blvd. past Knott's Berry Farm 7 miles, right on Bolsa to model homes. Huntington Beach Sales Office phone: TW 7-3676.

LOOK Magazine honors BRENTWOOD GARDENS for the proved-quality brand materials used in these homes. The Karwin Company, builder, also holds awards from the Brand Name Foundation, the National Association of Home Builders, HOUSE & HOME Magazine, and Station KTTV. BRENTWOOD GARDENS offers 3- and 4-bedroom homes equipped with Holly forced air gas heating with summer cooling switch, decorative grille walls, ceramic tile, disposers, O'Keefe & Merritt built-in gas ranges available. $15,700-$17,150, veterans $95 down. Artesia turnoff from Santa Ana Frwy., s/n Knott to Lincoln Ave. Sales Office phone: TA 8-3770.

THE SATURDAY EVENING POST for the past 3 years (1959, 1960, and 1961) has given its Blue Ribbon Home Award to Merrill Butler, Jr., and L. B. Harbour, Jr., the only Southern California builders to receive that distinction. Butler-Harbour's new development—DANA POINT KNOLLS—stars center patio planning in spacious homes with 3 and 4 bedrooms, family room, 2 and 3 baths; up to 2,184 sq. ft. living area. Kitchens equipped with O'Keefe & Merritt built-in gas ranges. Near beaches and site of proposed Dana Point Marina. From $20,250 to $29,500; FHA, VA, Cal-Vet, and conventional financing. Just s/n Laguna, near Santa Ana Frwy. Sales Agents: Walker & Lee. Phone: GY 3-1882.

McCALL'S Magazine's Congress of Better Living Award has been won twice by BRIGHTON-BILT HOMES—developers of PARK WEST homes in Oxnard. The new PARK WEST units feature convenient center-hall planning in home with 2 and 3 bedrooms plus den or extra bedroom, 2 baths, oversized 2-car garages with service area and storage space, thermostatically controlled forced air gas heating, Pioneer glass-lined water heaters, built-in Roper gas ranges, disposers. On large lots, parkway trees; near schools, churches, transportation. From $14,600, vets $95 down; FHA and VA terms available. Located at Howe and Ventura Rds., Oxnard. Sales Office phone: HU 3-9991.

GOOD HOUSEKEEPING Magazine selected Builder Harlan Lee's model home in his new ENCINO HILLS development for a feature story in its September issue. ENCINO HILLS offers spacious 1- and 2-story homes with 2,150-2,600 sq. ft. living area, 3, 4, and 5 bedrooms, 3 baths, sunken living rooms, large family rooms, dining areas, inner courtyards, sliding glass doors, kitchens completely built-in with such features as dishwashers, disposers, built-in Gaffers & Sattler gas ranges. All utilities are underground in this outstanding new development, south of Ventura Boulevard on Hayvenhurst. Priced from $39,950. Phone: ST 8-8400.

Five leading national magazines award recognition to these Southern California builders of balanced power homes...featuring the best of modern gas and electricity

The builders represented here have each won honors from a leading national magazine. Some for the choice of quality materials—some for distinguished planning—all for the kind of building "know-how" that pays off for you in greater home value in new homes now open. One very important part of that value: Each home shown here is a BALANCED POWER home, giving you the best of both modern gas and electricity for easiest living at lower cost.

BALANCED POWER planning assigns each household job to the power that does it most efficiently and economically for you. Modern gas does such jobs as cooking, heating and air conditioning, water heating, refrigeration, and clothes drying with utmost speed and economy. Adequate wiring provides for well-planned modern lighting, dishwashers, disposers, TV sets, radios, and other handy appliances. With this common-sense approach to modern home design, is it any wonder that over 1,000 leading Southern California builders are now building or planning 104,853 BALANCED POWER homes?

RESIDENTIAL PICK-UP

Three Bands For Pioneer Days Parade

Three bands, with possibility of five more, making eight in all, are scheduled to take part in this year's Pioneer Day celebration in Sierra Madre on Saturday, Oct. 28.

The three-day celebration begins on Thursday, Oct. 26 under auspices of the Lions Club. All proceeds go to the young and to the blind.

Lions President Charles J. Waters has appointed William M. (Red) Waiter carnival chairman; Dr. Paul J. Narowich, in charge of booths; Bill Bernard and Nash Cavan, parade, and David Duran, publicity chairman.

Lions Club members are requesting merchants and civic bodies to enter floats in the parade. A number of horsemen already are entered.

Lady Lions will have their annual swim party and pot-luck dinner this Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Paul Werden of 281 W. Carter. He is Lions Club secretary.

Council Meeting

William H. and Alma P. Spangur, 47, Lima; Herbert L. and Anna D. Brown, Mariposa; Mrs. Elva M. McGinnis, 46 N. Lima; Mrs. Boyd C. Lee, 185 N. Hermosa.

Also Elaine and Mary Hertwick, 234 N. Lima; Elizabeth Poliska, 650 W. Montecito; J. A. Schilling, 303 W. Montecito; Mrs. John N. Pemberton, 715 W. Algeria; Bertha W. Owen, 72 W. Montecito; Angeline R. Polly, 117 N. Auburn; John Connaghan, 69 Montecito Court; John Rasmussen, 52 W. Sierra Madre Blvd.; John P. Cullen, 873 Ridgeway Dr., Monrovia, and owner of property in Sierra Madre; Clara J. Sykes, 91 W. Highland; Rafaelita Gallegos, 170 W. Montecito, and Helen R. Keating, 38 W. Sierra Madre Blvd.

The proposed E. Bonita Ave. assessment district brought a lengthy dispute whether to permit a partial opening or a through street from S. Baldwin to Mountain Trail. The street is now partially opened.

A plan before Council provides for only a partial opening, with two cul-de-sacs. Councilman Severin L. Sorenson opposed the cul-de-sacs and in the end he and Mayor W. Webster Vannier agreed to meet with the property owners Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in an effort to iron out the difficulty.

Pupils' Playtime

activities will constitute the basic playground program. This will provide an opportunity for boys and girls to practice the skills taught in the daily physical education program. Many special activities will supplement this program such as cookouts, skate parties, special interest groups, and others.

In addition, the Girls' Recreation Club will meet weekly, and the Boys' Sports Club also will be held each week to prepare for Saturday inter-playground competition which will be scheduled at the Wilson Junior High School, with opportunities to meet with elementary school children from other playgrounds.

Mr. Bignell says: "The Pasadena Department of Recreation is an integral part of the Pasadena City Schools system and we are happy to provide this service to offer constructive leisure-time activities for our elementary school children close to their homes."

"The Recreation staff is looking forward to an outstanding year, and wishes to thank the parents and children for the splendid support they have given this department to date."

Crash Victim

Lynwood where she was taken. While out of danger her injuries are still considered serious.

She was riding with Norman McCann, a boy friend, en route to Laguna Beach. When several cars ahead stopped at the Lakewood intersection the car door flew open and she was thrown out, her head striking the guard rail. She was unconscious three days, recovering semi-consciousness only late Monday. The accident occurred at 12:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

Rev. and Mrs. Hesse were at their daughter's bedside for several days.

en to the Red Cross in this vision. She accepted it modestly with one of her characteristic little speeches spiced with humor and common-sense.

The production chairman reported the following results of summer work: Six dozen pull straps, seven knitters received yarn for two men's sleeveless sweaters, two coat sweaters and 34 ounces of white yarn for socks.

Friday Service Circle of the Congregational Church made the following: Twenty-five shirts for the Veterans Hospital, three-dozen diapers and bibs for Fairview Hospital (children's mental institution); 750 cookies supplied by a Congregational Church group.

The Red Cross office at 25 S. Baldwin is now open Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 10 a.m. to 12 noon.

Demos Fear Knight

Christopher of San Francisco, Assemblyman Joseph Shell of Los Angeles, and former Lieutenant Governor Harold J. Powers of Modoc County.

The Republicans at present are almost disastrously split, with virtually no leadership and no definite program. The party has lost national leadership, the Governorship of California, and all the state elective offices except that of secretary of state. It has bare minorities in the Senate and Assembly.

With this situation to face, it will be up to the party's nominee at the June primary elections to solidify the remaining remnants into a workable group, with the idea of regaining control in only a few years instead of the long period of time it took the Democrats to come back after the Bourbons lost control of California.

There are many in the party who feel former Governor Knight is thoroughly competent to do the job. And there also are many who feel Nixon could do it well.

But when everything is taken into consideration, the fact remains that the Democrats, with a 3-2 majority in registration in California, fear Knight as a candidate more than they fear Nixon. They argue Knight would be the most likely candidate to split the Democrats wide open, dividing the ultra-Liberals from the more conservative element of the party, who are not quite conservative enough to vote for Nixon, but would go along with Knight, who while he was Governor, approached administration on more of a bipartisan basis.

But these Democrats, of course, will have nothing to say as to who is the Republican candidate, due to the fact that cross-filing is out, and they will have only one candidate to support in the primary, that being Governor Edmund G. Brown.

The question of the eventual election, therefore, observers feel, hangs on the vote of the registered Republicans next June. With Nixon solidifying the Democrats, Brown no doubt would be an odds on favorite to return to office. But, if a candidate is selected who would split the Democratic vote, the Republicans might have a running chance.

Residents Protest

in our schools, and removal of bus service, the kindergarten children from south of Sierra Madre Blvd. and west of Mountain Trail will have to walk to the Sierra Madre School for the first time.

There is a crossing guard at Canon for the Sierra Mesa children and we feel a crossing guard is necessary at either Hermosa or Auburn and the Boulevard. The need for this guard stems most vital at the start of school when children are new to the idea of walking, and the motorist is not aware of school starting.

If this is not to the best advantage, the chief of police could make other arrangements upon his return. Thank you for your consideration.

Yours sincerely,
R. H. BARDEN.
Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Barden Jr.

SHAKEN UP IN CRASH

Archie L. Gress, 31, of 233 Santa Anita Court, Sierra Madre, and Milton D. Remy, 64, of 130 White Oak Dr., Arcadia, were shaken up Tuesday when their cars collided on W. Sierra Madre, near Lima.

in the development of instruction of elementary Spanish by means of television. The programs are created and produced by the Pasadena Unified Schools staff, and televised over Channel 13.

Extensive teaching guides and high fidelity records assist the classroom teachers in following up the work of the television coach, Mrs. Yvette Miller.

The program has been so successful that it is now being used in approximately 55 districts in seven counties and also in the Los Angeles City Schools, which means that approximately 70,000 children benefit from the Pasadena program.

Enrollment figures released by the Research Director of the Pasadena Uni-school enrollment from kindergarten through 6th grade as follows: Sierra Madre 536; Sierra Mesa 380; Eugene Field 704, Don Benito 675.

Dr. Robert E. Jenkins, superintendent of schools, announced at the Board of Education meeting, Tuesday, he was sending a letter of welcome to Sierra Madre parents and children.

He stated that "Mr. Hawkins, principal of Sierra Madre school and Miss Betty Newton, principal of Sierra Mesa school have been working closely with our staff for several months to assure a smooth transition as we open the school year."

"Your principals and teachers will be glad to assist you with any problems. If, after conferring with them, you still have some concern, Miss Grace M. McFarland, who is assistant superintendent for Elementary Schools, directly responsible to the superintendent, will be glad to be of assistance. I want to assure you that, as your superintendent, my door is open and that I will be pleased to talk to any parent or citizen who has a concern, or suggestion that can not be cleared up quickly through the principals or the assistant superintendent.

You are an important part of a fine school system, providing superior education for children of all abilities. We are glad to have Sierra Madre in our school district, and we hope that your children have many successful years in our schools."

Alpha Chi Omega Plans Oct. 3 Tea

Alpha Chi Omega alumnae living in Pasadena and surrounding areas are invited to attend a tea given by the Alpha Kappa Alpha Junior and Senior chapters.

This special event honoring past presidents will be held Tuesday, Oct. 3, from 2 to 4 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Ernest Porter, 1348 Descanso Dr., La Canada.

Mrs. Sidney Boggs, chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. A. L. Jensen, Miss Olive La Clair, Mrs. E. R. Fess and Mrs. Thomas Love, district alumnae chairman.

Sierra Madre Boy On Party Group

Chi Sigma, Pasadena City College home economics club, will hold a tea for incoming home economics majors at the home of Lina Wilson, 2822 Caroline Way, Arcadia, Sunday, Sept. 17. In charge of arrangements are Libby Wire, Temple City; Fran Reinsch, Sierra Madre; Norene Adams, La Canada, and Connie Benesch, El Monte.

Newcomers Are Greeted

We welcome to Sierra Madre new neighbors Miss Mercedes Smith who came to our community from Minnesota; Mr. and Mrs. Handschuch and their four children from Pasadena, and Mr. and Mrs. Max H. Eichenhof from Arcadia.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Gene Cunningham and their two children are newcomers from Pasadena and the Ben Weissman family are new residents from Arcadia.

Welcome newcomers are Mr. and Mrs. Harold R. Thompson from Altadena; also the John P. Tres family who came to us from Covina; and Mrs. Thomas Landers and her three children from Altadena.

Town Gossip

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Jenkins are back home at 142 E. Sierra Madre Blvd., after a motor tour and vacation in Northern California. On their return they visited with son, daughter-in-law and the granddaughters, Budge, Katie, Lizzie and Julie in Petaluma, and to also give a helping hand to get the family settled. Budge takes over this September as head of the art department in the new Petaluma High School.

Mrs. David (Mary) Roess with daughters, Ruth and Joy, are home again at 125 Lowell after a month's visit with her mother, Mrs. Clyde Gill in Titus, Pa. They also stayed at David's relatives in Oil City, Pa. David with daughter, Mary Ann and son, Freddie, stayed home and "kept things going."

Rear Adm. and Mrs. Willard W. Day and son, Richard, have been guests of his brothers, Robert A. Day of 609 Mariposa Ave., and Marion W. Day of Arcadia. They are on their way to be stationed at Taipei, Taiwan, for the next two years.

Crew No. 2 Wins Firemen's Drill

First in a series of five competitive drills between two crews of firemen were carried out at the bimonthly business and drill meeting of the Volunteer Department last Friday night.

Fire Chief Charles E. Brown has planned these drills meant to simulate actual conditions which the firemen would face in case of an actual blaze.

Following the series the winning crew will be guests at a dinner tendered them by the losing crew.

Yom Kipper, Jewish Day Of Atonement, Will Begin At Sundown Next Tuesday

The most sacred day of the year for Jews is the Day of Atonement — Yom Kippur. It will be observed this year beginning sundown on Sept. 19 for one complete day.

During this period, the Jew not only reaffirms his belief in the synagogue, but he also reevaluates his own personal deeds and behavior and reexamines ways in which he may, during the coming year, improve his service to God, man and family.

Services are conducted from sundown to sundown in the synagogue beginning with the opening liturgy in the prayer book — the Kol Nidre service, which means in essence: "For all our sins during the past year, Oh God, please forgive us." The traditional melody associated with this service has become familiar to many through its rendition by distinguished cantors and singers.

On Yom Kippur, the Jew abstains from food and drink, thus indicating the solemnity of the occasion and the severity with which he evaluates his life.

At the conclusion of the service, the Shofar, the ram's horn, is sounded to mark the end of the ten Days of Awe, which began on the Jewish New Year, Rosh Hashanah.

Judaism places much emphasis on man's deeds on earth and his ability to use wisely the powers given to him by God. For this reason, the Yom Kippur prayers, sermons and meditation direct the worshiper to an intensive reappraisal of his life.

Services (Kol Nidre) will be observed at Temple Beth Israel, 212 N. Lima next Tuesday night at 7 p.m. when Rabbi Charles E. Steckel, spiritual leader of the congregation will have as his topic, "A Kol Nidre Commitment."

The Yom Kippur Wednesday morning services will be at 8:45 a.m. in the Temple with Rabbi Steckel discoursing on "These Martyrs I Will Remember."

Memorial services will be Wednesday about 11 a.m. in the Temple.

Temple Beth David of the San Gabriel Valley, Longden Ave. at Kauffman, in Temple City, will mark the Holy Day Season with services on the Sabbath Eve, Friday, Sept. 15, at 8:30 p.m.

Rabbi Camillus Angel will speak on "The Sabbath Of Repentance."

The advent of Yom Kippur will be observed with two services on Tuesday evening, Sept. 19. First will begin at 7 p.m. and second at 9 p.m. Rabbi Angel will preach on "The Vows We Make."

On Yom Kippur morning the service will begin at 10 o'clock. Rabbi Angel's sermon will be on the theme "Atonement." Special children's services will be held in the Religious School building from 10 a.m. till noon. The Yom Kippur afternoon service will begin at 2 p.m. and the Memorial Service at 3:30 p.m.

The Temple Choir will participate in the services with Mrs. Charles Lich of 710 Encino Dr., Arcadia, at the organ.

Temple Beth David is a Reform Congregation and is affiliated with the Union of American Hebrew Congregations.

Methodists Returning to 2 Services

The Sierra Madre Methodist Church will return to two worship services, 9:30 and 11 a.m., Sunday, Sept. 17, with Rev. Clinton W. Swengel, preaching on "Christ the Editor."

The Chancel Choir will return also from its summer vacation Sunday with Dale Moore, directing, and Mrs. Samuel Kirk, as organist.

Steckel Conducts New Year Services At City of Hope

Rabbi Charles W. Steckel of the Foothill Jewish Community Center of Temple Beth Israel, Sierra Madre, who also serves as City of Hope chaplain, conducted special Roth Ha-Shanah (Jewish New Year) services at the free, specialized Medical Center, according to an announcement by Dr. Paul L. Wermer, executive medical director.

Rosh Ha-Shanah services were held Sunday evening, followed by a special holiday dinner, and Monday and Tuesday mornings, Sept. 11 and 12. Yom Kippur services will take place Tuesday evening, Sept. 19, and Wednesday morning, Sept. 20.

'Promise of Life' Theme For Hansen

"The Promise of Life" is the sermon topic of Rev. Ray E. Hansen, pastor of Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran church, 33 E. Sierra Madre Blvd., Sierra Madre, for the 10:10 a.m. service Sunday, Sept. 17.

"When we read in the Bible of the healing miracles of Christ, such as His raising the widow's son from the dead, we are tempted to think the age of miracles is over," the pastor will say. "Yet miracles just as great occur today, as Christ continues to show compassion."

"But along with the facts of Christ's miracles the Scriptures convey to us today hope and truth for our lives. Every day people who are spiritually dead, existing but not living, are touched by Christ and brought to real life."

"Further, if we die today Christ may not raise us from the dead to life in this world again, as He did the widow's son. He has something better for us — if we follow Him — and that is resurrection from the dead to an eternal life of perfect and everlasting happiness."

The pastor will show how being a Christian gives full meaning and joy in this life, as well as the promise of everlasting life after death.

Sunday School classes are at 9 a.m.

Bethany Notes

The Christian Education Department at Bethany Church is sponsoring an "all-church" leadership conference this coming Saturday, Sept. 16 at the church.

There will be seminars and sessions on audio-visual, pre-school children, helping youth to worship God, panel discussions on Sunday School problems, non-projected teaching aids and a time for departmental planning.

During the noon luncheon, the pastor, Dr. Robert N. Schaper, will speak. Sessions start at 8:30 a.m. and run until 2:30 p.m. followed by a time of recreation.

Fifty-five young people and five adults traveled to San Diego Saturday for their annual "mystery trip." They visited Scripps Institution of Oceanography, Point Loma National Monument and San Diego Zoo.

On their return they stopped at the Faith Evangelical United Brethren Church at Santa Ana for their dinner which was followed by a worship service with their pastor, Dr. Schaper, speaking. They returned at 9 p.m.

At Bethany Church Sunday School plans are under way for a rally day on Oct. 1. This will also be the beginning of a five-week's loyalty campaign in the Sunday School. The theme "Prove Your Love" will be used throughout the five Sundays of October "proving" how big the church is in your heart.

The superintendents of the Sunday School, John Kershaw, adult; Ernie Richter, youth and Archie Cress, elementary urge every present and former member of Bethany Church Sunday School to consider seriously their responsibility to themselves to be in Sunday School and church on Sunday morning. Further announcements will be made soon.

The new fall program for Bethany Missionary Society begins next Tuesday, Sept. 19 when the women meet for a noon luncheon at Mobile Manor, 4241 Live Oak, Arcadia. Both ladies and gentlemen are invited to attend this covered dish dinner. There will be a time of fellowship and an opportunity to hear a message on missions. The society meets the first Tuesday every month, except during July and August.

'Outer Space' Is Topic for Rev. Lindsay

The Congregational Church returns to its regular schedule this coming Sunday, Sept. 17. Duplicate worship services, at 9:30 and 11 a.m. will be held. Church school, with classes from nursery through high school, will be at 9:30 a.m. with child care at 11 o'clock.

This Sunday parents are asked to come with their children at 9 o'clock to register them in their classrooms.

On most Sundays, special lowship and an opportunity to hear a message on missions. The society meets the first Tuesday every month, except during July and August.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH EXPANDS

Due to the continuing growth of the church throughout the Diocese of Los Angeles both in parishes and missions as well as schools, new buildings are steadily rising to meet the needs of the areas.

A new church and Sunday school wing was completed in August by St. Thomas of Canterbury Parish, Long Beach.

SIERRA MADRE NEWS—11 Thursday, Sept. 14, 1961

Among the new mission buildings recently dedicated were St. John the Divine Mission, Costa Mesa; St. Mary's Mission, Lompac; St. Andrew's Mission, Granada Hills; St. Michael's Mission, Arlington; the new wing of Grace Church, Colton; a new schoolroom at St. John's Church and Day School, Chula Vista, and the Blessed Sacrament Mission, Placentia.

Churches under construction are: St. Aidan's, Malibu; St. Michaels and All Angels Mission of St. James Parish, Newport Beach; Trinity Parish, Los Angeles, St. Matthew's Mission, Baldwin Park.

Plans have been made for a new church with sacristies and choir room for Holy Trinity Church, Alhambra.

Take your problems to Church this week — millions leave them there!

"Attention! Mother and Daddy"

It is evident that your "little Napoleon"—or is it "Her Grace"—is demanding your attention. Soon, his or her life will be needing other services, cares and attentions.

"Suffer Little Children to Come Unto Me," was intended not just for man some twenty centuries ago. It is a directive for every parent of modern times. While infants are a bit young to gain from church attendance it is not too early to plan for their spiritual training and in this the church will lend its valuable aid.

As a child's character and habits are influenced and built by early training in the home, so faith in humanity and trust in God is induced through early religious training in the church of your faith. This combination is all preparing for life's vocation.

You make no mistake in calling upon and using the services of the Church in rearing of your children.

With the hope that it will, in some measure, foster and help sustain that which is good in family and community life, this feature is sponsored by the business firms and organizations whose names appear in this space.

Explorer Boy Scouts Enjoy 17-Day Expedition Through Four Southwestern States

By Leon Moses

Recently the Explorers of Post 376, Boy Scouts, Sierra Madre, returned from their expedition through Arizona, New Mexico, Southern Colorado, Southern Utah, and the Lake Mead area.

The trip lasted 17 days and consisted muchly of sight-seeing, although seven days were spent camping and fishing at the Philmont Scout Ranch.

The Explorers sleepily assembled at 4 a.m. Aug. 10. We heard a few words from Mr. Moses our advisor, then left for Blythe. The main attractions we saw were:

FRIDAY, Aug. 11, we saw Jerome Ghost City, an old mining town, in Arizona. Later that afternoon the Post went through Tazigoot National Monument. The purpose of seeing this particular ruin was to get acquainted with the history of the Southwestern Indian.

The next day we stopped by the Painted Desert where the Explorers heard a special talk about the area. The Post also took a hike down into one of the valleys.

Saturday afternoon we attended the rodeo at Gallup, N.M. After the rodeo "Indian Joe," a Scout executive in the Kit Carson Council, traded patches with us. In the evening we saw the Indian dances at the Inter-Tribal Ceremonials.

THE FOLLOWING DAY we were lucky enough to stay at a Scout lodge used by the Posts of Los Alamos. That evening the group saw slides about the ruins at Bandelier National Monument.

Monday morning we took a tour of Los Alamos, and also of the laboratory.

That evening camp was at the stockade in Taos. This gave us a chance to see Kit Carson's grave and the Taos pueblo and church.

Tuesday afternoon, Aug. 15, we arrived at Philmont. The afternoon and evening were spent repacking our gear for the trail and also getting souvenirs to take home.

In the morning we were transported from Philmont Headquarters to the Rayado Base Camp.

FROM RAYADO the Explorers hiked about a mile up stream to camp. The next four days were spent camping and fishing.

The total fish caught by the 13 people who wished was 104.

On the sixth day we hiked down stream six miles, crossing 26 times, to Abreu. After riding down to Carson-Maxwell from Abreu, the Post went horseback riding for two hours. Once back at the headquarters, everybody switched their gear for road travel.

Aug. 22 we left Philmont for Mesa Verde National Park, but outside Pagosa Springs, Colo., one car de-mont; Keith Moses, advisor; William Barnes, assistant advisor, and Terry Mankin. Third row, standing, from the left are John Bohart, Steve Gray, Fred Stearns, Jay Preston, Bill Bains, Bob Sailer and Leon Moses.

The Explorers who participated were Barney Barnes, Bill Bains, John Bohart, Steve Gray, Jim Howard, Terry Mankin, Leon Moses, Jay Preston, Bob Sailer, John Sewall and Fred Stearns.

Auto Crash Costs Youth 5 Teeth

Losing control of the car he drove Saturday night meant loss of five front teeth for Jennings R. Arnce, 17, of 580 S. Meadows Lane, lately of Phoenix, Ariz.

Young Arnce, driving his mother's car, crashed into an Italian cypress tree in front of 480 N. Lima. He was alone in the car and was treated at Sierra Madre Community Hospital.

The youth, with his mother, Mrs. Frances Arnce Jones, recently moved here from 2225 N. 7th St., Phoenix, Ariz.

Monrovia Mutual To Make Awards

Residents of Sierra Madre and adjacent area can win a Waste King Imperial Dishwasher by registering at Monrovia Mutual Savings and Loan Association, 237 S. Myrtle Ave., according to Robert C. Martens, vice president-manager.

To dishwashers will be given away each Friday night during September. Tickets for the awards are available at many businesses in Monrovia as well as in the Monrovia Mutual Savings offices.

The winner need not be present, though tickets must be deposited at the savings association offices. The dish-washers will be delivered at the homes. Drawing time is 7:30 p.m. Fridays.

Bob Walker In Bassett School Post

Robert E. Walker, superintendent of Sierra Madre Public School prior to their amalgamation last July 1 with the Pasadena School District, is now assistant superintendent of instructional services for the Bassett School District in the East San Gabriel Valley.

Bob Walker who gained an enviable reputation both as an educator and a public-spirited citizen during his years in Sierra Madre, and now residing in South Pasadena, is assistant to Supt. James Ketcherside of the Bassett District.

The latter serves some 5,500 pupils in its district, these coming from parts of La Puente, Baldwin Park, Industry and West Covina, plus those from the unincorporated district. It is located between El Monte and La Puente and West Covina and Whittier.

At present there is no high school but beginning next July when the district will be unified construction of a new high school is anticipated.

Kappa Delta Unit Meets On Sept. 19

The Pasadena Alumnae Association of Kappa Delta will meet for a barbecue dinner followed by a business meeting on Sept. 19 at 6:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Karl V. Freden, 2095 Minoru Dr., Altadena. All Kappa Deltas in the area are invited to attend.

Mrs. James P. Anderson of Altadena is chairman and will be assisted by Mrs. Raymond W. Meyer of Altadena; Mrs. James W. Taylor and Mrs. Charles W. Stephens of Pasadena.

WHAT WILL YOUR LIFE BE LIKE IN THE ALL-ELECTRIC FUTURE?

Electrically-produced ultrasonic waves will dry-clean your clothes instantly, right in your closet. You will make a cake or saw wood with cordless appliances...shop by two-way TV-telephone. And this is only the beginning of the wonderful things to come.

YOUR FUTURE IS ALL-ELECTRIC

Ten years ago the average family owned 15 electric appliances. Today, the same family owns more than 30. The number of ways electricity will serve you tomorrow is almost unlimited.

SCIENCE IS DEVELOPING NEW SOURCES OF ELECTRICITY

American industry recognizes that the demand for electrical energy will soon reach staggering proportions—that the future is all-electric.

That is why today, more than ever before, practically all segments of industry are channeling tremendous effort toward one imperative, common objective: to be ready for the all-electric future by improving existing methods and finding new ways of producing and delivering electricity; by increasing the efficiency of electrically operated products; by expanding the many ways electricity can serve mankind.

The electric industry, of course, continues to be in the forefront in this research. And logically so. Electricity is our business.

We have already produced electricity from solar energy, from fuel cells, and from nuclear and other sources.

Whatever the source, electrical energy is limitless, and Southern California Edison will continue to bring you an abundant, dependable supply at the lowest possible rates.

WHAT CAN YOU DO TO BE READY?

When you buy a range, clothes dryer, air conditioner, water heater or home heating—buy electric. Why compromise with progress? Electricity is today's biggest bargain—still priced at 1939 levels.

When you buy a home, go all-electric. DON'T BUY BUILT-IN OBSOLESCENCE. Get complete "Housepower." Only a home built to rigid Medallion Home standards has the overall electrical capacity necessary for truly modern living.

Look for this emblem. It will look out for you. When you see the Gold Medallion Home emblem, it means that you've found a total-electric home. It represents tomorrow's living today. And it means an amazing future for you—an all-electric future.

Why live in the past?

You can live better electrically today.

Pomona Fair Turf Season Opens Friday

POMONA—Horse racing, county fair style, returns to the Southern California sports picture Friday with opening of the 14-day 1961 Los Angeles County Fair season here.

The third ranking track in the California barometer of daily average attendance, the fair will offer racing six days, with only Sundays dark during the season.

Two harness horse races, a brace of quarter horse events and eight thoroughcontests will make up the daily cards.

Weekday post times will be 12:30, with the first bugle blowing at noon Saturdays. During the final week of racing, weekday post time will be moved back to 12 noon in observation of the end of daylight saving time, bringing with it earlier sunsets.

Eight richly endowed stakes spark this, the 23rd season of racing over this popular half-mile course, with a combined value of $80,000 in added money, richest stakes program ever offered here. Topping the stakes agenda will be the running of the tradition-steeped Pomona Handicap, a $20,000 added affair at a mile and one furlong, to be offered closing day, Sept. 30. Leading up to the Pomona will be an array of stakes, catering to each age division on the grounds.

Fillies and mares, in particular, will bask in the spotlight of Pomona stakes attention this year, with three of the eight stakes fashioned exclusively for the distaffers. Two new filly stakes, the California Thoroughbred Breeders Association, Marian Stakes for 3-year-old fillies, and the Bustles and Bows Stakes for 2-year-old fillies, heighten interest of the state's many breeders in Pomona racing.

These newcomers, together with the now firmly established Las Madras Handicap for older fillies and mares, gives Pomona one of the strongest distaff programs of any track in California.

Most of the leading stables from Del Mar have planned Pomona campaigns, with the public stable of Trainer Reginald Cornell leading the invasion with no less than 40 horses.

Cornell, who saddled the fabulous Silky Sullivan when that worthy gained fame as the most talked-about thoroughbred in the country a few years ago, has a hard-hitting band of runners in his barn, and his owners' colors will be seen in nearly every race for the thoroughbreds during the season.

Those who put their money in mining stock often come out minus.

Fritz Schumacher Subject For Rail Magazine Story

"Competitive Transportation," a newspaper issued monthly by the Western Railways in Chicago, contains the following interesting article about K. Fritz Schumacher of 195 E. Sierra Madre Blvd., former Santa Fe railroader and staunch advocate of justice for the railroads:

"K. Fritz Schumacher and his typewriter are staunch supporters of the railroads in their battle for regulatory freedom and equality of opportunity to compete.

Schumacher is known coast-to-coast for his piercing letters to editors. Since 1958, he has written more than 1,000 of them, all dealing with railroad or closely related transit subjects. Often, one of his letters is printed from one to 55 different newspapers almost simultaneously.

Fritz is the self-styled president of his one-member Freelance Society for Prevention of Cruelty to the Iron Horse. A highly literate gentleman, he lives in Sierra Madre, Calif., 18 miles from Los Angeles.

He is dedicated to the cause of fair play in transportation.

A graduate from California Institute of Technology, Schumacher once worked for the Santa Fe Railway in Wickenburg and Phoenix, Ariz., as chairman on maintenance surveys.

He started his letter-writing crusade to newspapers in 1958, pointing out the giant strides railroads have made in spite of unfair restrictions put on them by government agencies and others.

Whenever railroad legislation is involved, Fritz sits down to his typewriter to turn out convincing letters to congressmen and legislators.

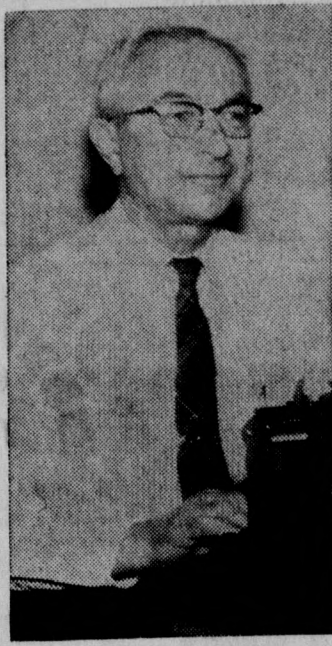

Recently, about twice a month, he has been preparing a message for a three-minute broadcast by telephone to one of several radio public opinion programs in the Los Angeles area.

Says Fritz about his one-man crusade:

"It is by no means a one-way street. I have to live and work in a 1,000-square-mile traffic jungle which once was served by the best electric railway system in the West.

Ever-rising taxes, inflation, and reduction of main line train service make occasional escape by train ever more difficult.

"I prefer railroading via typewriter to jetting in a galvanized ash can or indulging in the popular outdoor sport of motorized survival of the fittest."

K. Fritz Schumacher

Final Call Comes To Mrs. De Groff

Originally from New York, and a Californian for a year, Mrs. Gretchen De Groff of 258 W. Highland Ave., passed away Sept. 6 at the Parkwood Convalescent Hospital.

Surviving are her husband, Edward H. De Groff; two daughters, Mrs. Donald P. Beringer of Pasadena, and Mrs. J. S. Lederer of Iran; and a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Schwab of New York City.

Memorial services were conducted in Ripple's Mortuary Chapel on Saturday, Sept. 9, at 11 a.m., with Rev. Donald H. Ostrander of Trinity Presbyterian Church officiating. Final inurnment will be in Queens, N.Y.

Expert Hits Pitch-Putt Golf Course

Whether the pitch and putt golf course proposed for Sierra Vista Park would prove self-sustaining or profitable if installed and operated by private capital appears doubtful judging from discussions at the Parks and Recreation Commission monthly meeting.

City Administrator Lawrence C. Bevington, reporting on his meeting with Al Coke, developer of such courses, including the Arcadia three-par course on Las Tunas, told the commission Coke did not think a feasible study would indicate installing a course in Sierra Vista Park would invite private capital.

Coke's negative opinion was based on the smallness of the area allotted for the proposed course. He feels there is enough population in the area and sufficient traffic on Sierra Madre Blvd. for a pitch and putt course if more land were available.

THE QUESTION arose whether the idea should be abandoned and the efforts devoted to providing better picnic facilities for the park.

Chairman Margaret Anthony questioned whether development of Sierra Vista Park would be made contingent on what the city does about Bailey Canyon in regard to the picnic area.

"If we do get Bailey Canyon, this would provide picnic area," Chairman Anthony commented. "If not then Sierra Vista Park is the only area in town where we could have family picnics. I would not like to see any large area devoted to anything else, no matter how much money was made. A good picnic area is needed mostly in Sierra Madre."

In the end the commission agreed that Administrator Bevington should arrange for an informal session with Coke at a convenient time, this possibly providing for a report at the commission's September meeting.

3rd Wakeup U.S. Rally to Be Saturday

Mrs. Regina Osteroh, general chairman of Arcadians for America, announced today F. Harold Roach, Arcadia Tribune publisher, will introduce George Todt, principal speaker at the next Wake-Up America Rally.

Roach has been a leader in Arcadia for a quarter of a century and is widely known for the many contributions he and his newspaper have made to the Arcadia area.

This, the third in a series, will be held Saturday, Sept. 16, at the Arcadia High School football field beginning at 8 p.m.

Todt, daily columnist for a metropolitan Los Angeles newspaper, has established an outstanding reputation as a result of his articles titled, "Gorge Todt's Opinion." This column has won the George Washington Honor Medal from the Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, Pa., for the past two consecutive years. More than 170 of his columns have been placed in the U.S. Congressional Record by some 50 legislators.

He was a hard-hitting television commentator for more than a year and received citations from the VFW and the Sons of the American Revolution.

He thinks our main enemy is Marxist Socialism, neither Democrats nor Republicans—above all, we must be AMERICANS. Todt feels our job is to win and this call for strength and courage, not appeasement nor despair.

'Prescription for Fun' Theme for Medic Auxiliary

"Prescription for Fun" is the theme chosen by the board of the Pasadena Woman's Auxiliary of the Los Angeles County Medical Association for an all fresco supper to be held on Sunday, Sept. 17, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Herbert F. Williams at 933 El Campo Dr., Pasadena.

Several hundred invitations in the form of the familiar Rx ("Guaranteed to cure all who arrive") have been sent to members and their husbands, to provide an informal opportunity for everyone to get better acquainted before the women of the Auxiliary settle down to the serious business of another season of meetings and work.

Mrs. Walter F. Schwartz, president of the auxiliary, will be assisted by Mrs. Edwin M. Todt, social chairman, in receiving the guests. Serving on the special party committee are Mmes. Benjamin L. Crue Jr., James T. Helsper, Russell Hunter, Fordyce Johnson, Robert H. Pudenz, John B. Voskian and John M. Wright.

Pessimists are made, not born—just people who expect to make enough money next month to pay this month's bills.
